Free Parking Fringe Just For Residents

"It's about time we did something for people who live in Sausalito in terms of parking," Mayor Mel Wax told the city council last night.

With that statement he requested the city manager and city attorney to draw up an ordinance setting up a system for free parking for "anybody who lives in Sausalito."

TOURIST LOAD

Wax noted that Sausalitans pay "high enough taxes" and "a large enough penalty for having their parking places absorbed by people who don't live here."

"I see a lot of problems," said Councilman Earl F. Dunphy. William W. Remak, in the audience, stood up to make some recommendations on the proposal but Wax said, "wait until the ordinance is before us."

In other action on parking the council heard recommendations from both Remak and Frank Klineman, the latter speaking for the chamber of commerce directors, suggesting that a parking district be started.

"Good, we're delighted to hear that," responded Wax.

PARK PLANS

The council adopted an ordinance to permit cash payments in lieu of providing off-street parking in commercial districts and, prior to adoption, began negotiating for a new tiny waterfront park which may be obtained under the ordinance.

Mrs. Desmond Mordant of Mill Valley, owner of the Gate Theater, said she is definitely interested in negotiating to give a portion of her property for park use in lieu of not having to supply the required 12 parking spaces.

WALKWAY

Mrs. Mordant plans to tear down the theater, build two retail buildings on the site, and leave a walkway on the south side of the buildings to enable the public to walk to a small waterfront lookout, then south behind the old Purity store to Bridgeway at Princess Park. Action on the Mordant variance application was continued to Sept. 17.

The council then approved a conditional use permit to Peter Wells, representing Trident Productions, to permit eight shops in the old Purity store plus outside restaurant seating for 16

FLOODED OUT—Flood water pours over Growden Memorial Field in Fairbanks, Alaska, where the Babe Ruth World Series baseball tournament was to have been played starting Saturday with a Marin entry from Novato. Today, swollen Chena River began to drop, leaving damage estimated at $200 million. (AP Wirephoto)

Alaska Flood Kills Three, River Drops

$200 Million In Damage Worst Since '64 Quake

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI)—Flood waters from the rampaging Chena River began inching slowly downward today leaving 30,000 residents reeling under Alaska's worst disaster since the earthquake of 1964 with damage estimated at $200 million.

There were three known deaths, rail and highway links with the outside were washed out, the city's water supply was condemned and nearly every home was damaged.

'BIG BATHTUB'

The downtown area, which Mayor H. A. Boucher said looked from the air like "a big bathtub which a child had filled with toy houses and buildings," was being patrolled by police and National Guardsmen in boats and military amphibious craft.

Isolated fires raged for a time last night and there was nothing to do but to let them burn themselves out.

"The river is going down some today," Boucher said. "We haven't lost our sense of humor."

MANY EVACUEES

The University of Alaska, located nearby, looked like a refugee camp as 4,000 evacuees streamed in. Others were housed at Eielson Air Force Base, the high school and an elementary school and the public safety building—all situated no higher ground or with floors above the flood.

Both Boucher and Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel appealed to President Johnson to declare Fairbanks and the town of Nenana a disaster area. Nenana, about 50 miles southwest of here, is on the Tanana River into which the Chena flows. Its 300 residents were evacuated Monday night.

RIVER DROPS

The Chena, which winds through Fairbanks, began dropping slowly when the rain stopped yesterday afternoon but the water was still six to seven feet deep in the downtown section.

Weather forecasts called for more general rain in a storm front sweeping in from the Bering Sea.

"If the rain starts again, we are going to have to consider evacuating the entire city," Boucher said. "There are people on rooftops awaiting rescue . . . we're getting to them as fast as possible."

Boucher said about 70 per cent of the city's homes suffered serious damage and at least 95 per cent were hit to some extent with the flood waters.

NEW SITE FOR BABE RUTH?

The fate of the Babe Ruth World Series, scheduled to begin at Fairbanks, Alaska, Saturday with the Novato All-Stars representing the Pacific Southwest, is unclear in the wake of the floods there.

The tournament may be switched to Anchorage, Alaska. See Sports.

Reagan Signs Schools Aid; Solution Next

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A massive school finance bill to provide $145 million in additional aid to California's schools has been signed into law.

The measure, signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan last night at his home in Pacific Palisades, contains a technical error which — as it stands — could cost the state $50 million it doesn't have, top governor's aides said.

But Lyn Nofziger, Reagan's communications director, said the governor has been assured by State Education Department officials "that this (error) can be handled administratively" without seeking special legislation.

The error, made during the last frantic moments of the legislative session, is in the tax rate formula for nonunified districts. It would give them $50 million more than the legislature intended — $50 million for which the state has not budgeted.

Nofziger said representatives of the governor's office hope to "sit down with members of the staff of the Department of Education and some legislators to see what steps can be taken."

Now that the bill has been signed into law, Nofziger said, there is no rush. "We have three weeks to correct this."

The legislature will return during the first week of September for a short session to consider bills vetoed by the governor.

Reagan's aides said the haste in signing the measure was to enable school districts to meet the midnight deadline in notifying county boards of supervisors of their anticipated 1967-68 tax rates.

TIBURON GROVE

Neighbors Rip Plan To Ax Old Landmark

A stand of eucalyptus trees in Bel Aire, Tiburon, called a landmark in the area, is to be removed in a few days to make room for a road to a new subdivision, despite objections from residents of the area.

"We don't want to destroy the trees," San Rafael engineer Carlos said, "but there isn't any way they can be saved." Gonzalez represents Lytton Savings and Loan Co. of Palo Alto, developers of the Reedlands Woods No. 2 subdivision.

Gonzalez cited a county ordinance which says no eucalyptus trees can be planted within 200 feet of a road, but the county public works department said the ordinance doesn't apply to this case.

Michael F. King, principal engineer for the department, said the ordinance only relates to planting new trees.

King said the trees stand right in the middle of the proposed road alignment. There is no other practical route for the road because of the topography, he said, so the trees must go.

The trees are 60 to 70 years old, estimated Ronald Becker of 268 Karen Way. He said children in the neighborhood "don't understand" why the trees, which stand on the hill behind Bel Aire School, must be destroyed.

One resident asked if annexation to Tiburon would prevent the occurrences, and Tiburon City Manager Lawrence D. Rose said:

"In Tiburon, it would not have been permitted to remove those trees until the subdivision plans, including each tree, had been thoroughly reviewed by the planning commission and authorization granted."

Johnson Prods Congress Over Ghetto Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson, calling the task immense, told Congress today it cannot be satisified with "business as usual" in meeting the crisis of the nation's ghettos.

"These problems demand the best that an enlightened nation can plan, and the most that an affluent nation can afford," the President declared.

He made his plea for congressional action to help the cities in a letter to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield—just as the Montana senator was throwing down a challenge of his own in a major Senate speech.

In his letter, Johnson for one thing asked Congress to restore $237 million cut by the House from his Model Cities program.

"I urge that this request be restored in full," he said. "We can no longer be satisified with 'business as usual' when the problems are so urgent."

In addition to the Model Cities program for which the Administration asked $662 million, Johnson said "the Congress now has before it a number of other programs proposed by the Administration which are concerned entirely with the urban problems of our nation."

"These problems, taken together, represent an all-out commitment to the safety and well-being of our cities and the citizens who live in them," the President said.

For his part, Mansfield ticked off 14 key measures, including Model Cities, designed to improve urban life.

"Together," he said, "they are a kind of Magna Carta for urban America and for seven out of 10 Americans who live there.

U.S. Unit Traps North Regiment

SAIGON (UPI)—Troops of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division have trapped a Communist regiment of 1,200 to 1,500 men in four days of fighting in the coastal areas below Da Nang, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

Fragmentary reports from the battlefield midway between Chu Lai and Tam Ky, 350 miles north of Saigon, said 21 Communists were killed today to boost the total since Sunday to 79. The Americans lost five killed today to bring the toll to 11 dead and 4 wounded.

In fighting further south near Qui Nhon, about 285 miles north of Saigon, American and allied troops killed 65 North Vietnamese in a jungle battle yesterday in which U.S. strafing planes, helicopter gunships and artillery sent Communist survivors fleeing for their lives.

Giant booby traps killed eight Marines in another incident in the Da Nang area while in Saigon a grenade hurled by a small boy wounded 10 American civilians.

A military spokesman said it was not known whether the Communist force trapped by the paratroopers was North Vietnamese or Viet Cong.

First contact was made Sunday and the paratroopers, flown in recently to reinforce U.S. Marines in the area, began moving in. The spokesman said the Communist unit has been cut off. Usually in such event, U.S. fighter bombers and artillery try to annihilate the remnants.

The eight Marines were killed yesterday after a Leatherneck on patrol stepped on a Viet Cong booby trap fashioned of a giant 155 millimeter shell. The blast killed him and another Marine and wounded two more.

Portland Firm Low Bidder On Corte Madera Dredging

Western Pacific Dredging Corporation of Portland, Ore., was apparent low bidder yesterday for first-stage dredging in the Corte Madera Creek flood control project with a bid of $455,450.

Eight companies submitted bids ranging up to $1,522,822, according to Lt. Col. Frank C. Boerger, district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers.

Second low bid was from Hydraulic Dredging Company, Ltd., of Oakland at $587,820. The government's estimate was $694,000.

Western Pacific's bid for the locally financed share of the project diking the Muzzi property to contain dredging spoils, was $53,250. The cost would be shared by the county and the flood control district.

The engineers will award a bid after checking the firm's adequacy to handle the job, a process usually taking a week or less.

The first-stage dredging, from the creek mouth to Bon Air bridge, is to be completed by next summer. The dredging will widen the creek to a bottom width of 80 feet and a depth throughout of 12 feet. The channel right of way is 380 feet wide.

An estimated 726,000 cubic yards of material will be dredged. The project includes removal of the abandoned and bulldozed arks along the creek below the bridge.

Dr. King Plans Massive Negro Strikes In Cities

ATLANTA (UPI)—A federal poverty program spokesman urged the Southern Christian Leadership Conference today to reject "black romanticism" in the current crisis in civil rights.

"I am hoping that this convention will take action to defeat the extremists of both sides," said Dr. Maurice Dawkins, special assistant to Office of Economic Opportunity director Sargent Shriver.

"We must not permit black romanticism to replace Christian pragmatism," Dawkins said. "Black power cannot get along without white power, or vice versa."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. told the organization he founded that he will lead massive general strikes and demonstrations in the nation's major northern urban areas within the next four months.

He gave no timetable for the "civil disobedience" assault and said such a concept "has never been used on a mass scale in the North." He said tactics which worked in the rural south are "unsound" for the big cities.

"To have effect we will have to develop mass disciplined forces that can remain excited and determined without dramatic conflagrations," he said.

"To dislocate the functioning of a city without destroying it can be more effective than a

Muni Speeders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police have launched a crackdown on city bus and street car operators for speeding or running stoplights.

1. Thomas Zaragoza of the police traffic bureau reported yesterday that there has been an increase in accidents involving Muni drivers as well as "numerous complaints" about traffic violations by Muni drivers.

$1 Million Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Blonde-haired screen actress Kim Novak has filed a $1 million personal injury suit against a firm she claimed negligently installed a tire on her car three days before she was injured in a 1966 auto accident.

Her superior court suit, filed yesterday, said she was driving her 1966 Mercury station wagon last Aug. 26 when one of the wheels came off the vehicle, causing it to go out of control and overturn on U.S. 101 near Santa Maria.

Tiara Probe

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Three Israelis were being held today for further questioning in connection with the theft of a golden tiara from an effigy of the Virgin Mary in Old Jerusalem's Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

Police recovered the tiara, partly broken up, in a locksmith shop owned by the father of one of the suspects. Authorities said several heart pendants and other parts of the tiara had been broken off and sold.

GUIJFLO, Spain (UPI) — Rescue workers searched for bodies today in the wreckage of a four-story building that collapsed yesterday, fatally injuring 10 persons.

Long Sentences

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) —The Rhodesian high court yesterday sentenced eight terrorists to 20 years in jail for entering Rhodesia with machine guns, rifles, mines and hand grenades in their possession.

Suit Filed As Result Of Feud

OAKLAND (AP) — Gilbert Hayes, a bank director, filed a $500,000 damage suit yesterday, saying another bank's president struck him during a merger meeting.

The defendant is Fortney Stark, president of the First Security National Bank of Walnut Creek. Hayes is a director of Oakland's First National Bank.

The suit contends Stark 'thrust his knee with great force and violence" into Hayes' groin at a merger meeting last Wednesday.

A group of Oakland bank shareholders, including Hayes, had obtained a court injunction which halted the merger plans during a count of proxies.

Search Starts For Killer Of Nine In Canada Family

SHELL LAKE, Sask. (AP) — Royal Canadian Mounted Police set up roadblocks and turned bloodhounds loose in Saskatchewan farm country today as they pressed the search for the killer of nine members of a Canadian family.

Only a 4-year-old girl was spared in the James Peterson farm house near Shell Lake Tuesday. Bullets from a .22-caliber weapon killed Peterson, 47, his wife Evelyn, 42, and seven of their eight children.

Storekeeper Earl Dallan of Shell Lake said the family was well liked and hadn't "an enemy in the world."

Coroner Dr. Calvin S. Lambert of Leoville said, "I dont think there was a suicide", because no weapon was found. Police inspector Brian Sawyer said there was no apparent motive for the slayings.

"Mounties" set up roadblocks and were searching the surrounding bush with dogs, Sawyer said, and a search party of 250 persons was "ready to go."

The massacre was discovered by W. J. Lange, a neighbor of the Petersons, when Lange came to the one-story farmhouse to seek help with his haying. Lange found 4-year-old Phyllis unharmed in bed with two of her dead sisters.

Lange said he opened the door of the Peterson home when his knock went unanswered, adding that he thought he would kid Peterson about sleeping so late. Then Lange spotted Peterson's body by the kitchen door. The house had not been ransacked.

Lange found the keys to Peterson's 1957 station wagon and drove to Shell Lake four miles away to call police.

Dr. Lambert said all the victims had been shot with a .22-caliber gun. Police found five spent cartridges on the farm property.

Mrs. Peterson and her 1-year-old son were found dead in the front yard. "The mother and infant must have jumped through a window which we found ajar," the coroner said.

The children slain were: Jean, 17, Mary, 13, Dorothy, 11, Pearl, 9, William, 5, Colin, 2, and Larry 1.

$94,160 Award For Eye Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Superior Court jurors awarded $94,160 yesterday to Monica Mollner, a nurse who lost her left eye in an automobile accident.

Miss Mollner who is employed at Kaiser Hospital in Oakland and lives in San Francisco, was hurt Jan. 31, 1964, when her car and one driven by Stanley Soroken collided near Laytonville, in Mendocino County.

The verdict was against Soroken; the Revlon Corp., his employer, and the Hertz car rental firm. Revlon leased the car from Hertz for the salesman.

It's A Narrow Win For Marks— GOP Even With Demos In Senate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Republicans are in position today to control the California Senate, thanks to a narrow victory by Municipal Judge Milton Marks over Democratic Assemblyman John Burton.

In a special election which attracted wide interest yesterday, Marks had a final count of 106,407 votes, Burton 100,736. The city registrar said 68.8 per cent of the 300,000 registered voters turned out, an all-time high here for anything but a general election. Registration is roughly 2-1 Democratic.

The battle was for a Senate seat left vacant by the death of Democrat J. Eugene McAteer, which upset the 21-19 majority the Democrats had held. Now the Senate will be split 20-20, with Republican Lt. Gov. Robert Finch able to break tie votes.

MILTON MARKS
Replaces McAteer

Both candidates had powerful backing Gov. Ronald Reagan had strongly endorsed Marks, leading to speculation that the outcome could provide an index to his influence in a city which voted against him in 1966.

Burton, brother of Rep. Phillip Burton, D.Calif., was supported by former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Marks, who served eight years as an assemblyman, lost his seat last year due to reapportionment and Brown appointed him to the municipal bench in one of his last acts as governor.

Although theoretical control of the Senate passes to the Republicans, in practice it is rare for a lieutenant governor to cast a tie-breaking vote. Finch has done it only once since he assumed office.

There also is a question, since the Democrats still control the Assembly, whether the Reagan Administration will be eager to exercise its newly won prerogative. The president pro-tem of the Senate is a conservative Democrat, Hugh Burns of Fresno. With only a 20-20 balance in the Senate, his cooperation is no less necessary to the Republican Administration than before.

$5,000 Grant To Boys' Club

The Boys' Club of Southern Marin received a $5,000 grant during the second quarter of 1967 from the San Francisco Foundation, the foundation said yesterday.

The grant went for general operating costs of the club, Director Harold Jackson said.

The foundation listed $154,643 in Bay Area grants given during the quarter.

Self Defense Plea In Negro Slaying

DETROIT (UPI)—One of two white policemen charged with murder in the Detroit riot deaths of two Negroes told his superiors he killed his victim in self defense when the youth "grabbed my shotgun," according to court testimony today.

In the most dramatic testimony so far of a three-day pretrial hearing, Detroit homicide detective Elmer Reed read a statement which was given by patrolman Ronald August, 28, one of the two defendants.

In the statement, August described step-by-step his actions at the Algiers motel where three Negroes were killed with shotgun blasts July 26, the fourth day of the salvage riot in which 43 persons died.

August told of entering the motel, seeing one wounded Negro and other Negroes lined up against a wall under police guard.

"Now comes a tragic part," his statement said. "One fellow (lined up) on the wall stated that he wanted to see an officer in another room.

"We went into the room. He pleaded to let him and his friends go. He said 'you're not going to shoot me.' I said, 'I never shot anyone in my life.'

"Then he grabbed my shotgun and I pushed him on the bed. The safety was on and I pulled the trigger and it didn't go off.

"He grabbed the gun again. I released the safety, and I pushed him away and fired one shot. It hit him in the right side.

Reed identified the victim as Aubrey Pollard Jr., 19, with whose death August is charged. Another patrolman, Robert Paille, 31, is charged with murder in the death of Fred Temple, 18, who was killed in the same incident at the motel.

Bomb Report Hints At New Viet Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said today there are plenty of worthwhile bombing targets in North Vietnam and they are being hit.

"The air campaign is going well," he said.

Wheeler's comment came as President Johnson's critics and backers noted what both viewed as the emergence of a new administration position that the Vietnam war can be won only through heavier bombing of the North.

Wheeler was a witness today before a closed meeting of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee. His prepared testimony and an opening statement by subcommittee Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., were made available outside the hearing room.

Gen. Wheeler took note of recent successful air strikes against bridges, power plants and other major targets.

"Thus," he said, "the effort is a continuing one, and I do not foresee any shortage of worthwhile military targets as long as North Vietnam continues to be the source of manpower and the transmission center of supplies."

Stennis commented that there has been an increase in the bombing of major targets in North Vietnam since the Senate inquiry began.

Before Wheeler testified, critics of the administration said that heavier bombing would end hopes for a negotiated settlement in Veitnam. Backers called it more likely to make North Vietnam sue for peace.

Romney Sees Peace Talks No Closer

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Michigan Gov. George Romney said today it was "unsound thinking" to believe that U. S. bombing can force North Vietnam to the bargaining table.

At the same time, the Republican presidential hopeful said he never had advocated a halt in the bombing, but believed the military effort against the Communist regime in North Vietnam had been "over-escalated."

He expressed belief that the U. S. bombing effort in North Vietnam had created "false expectations" of a peaceful settlement just as a "buildup of false expectations and hopes" was the prime cause of recent big city riots like that in Detroit in his home state two weeks ago.

Romney visited Washington for a round of visits with Republican members of Congress and others in a partial rescheduling of meetings he was forced to cancel because of the Detroit outbreak two weeks ago.

After breakfasting with members of the Michigan congressional delegation, he addressed and answered questions at a meeting of congressional interns.

His comment on bombing came when he was asked whether he believed the raids on North Vietnam should be stopped. He replied that he had never advocated any such course, but had pointed out there were false expectations about what bombing could do.

In discussing the Vietnam war, the governor elaborated on statements at his news conference yesterday in Lansing. At that time he said it was "unrealistic" to rely on the bombing to bring about peace talks.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford immediately took issue with Romney, saying he supported Pacific Commander Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp's recommendations for stepped up sea and air warfare.

away the wounded, their footsteps triggered a similar giant blast. It killed six more Marines and wounded another eight.

In Saigon today a Vietnamese boy darted from an alley and hurled a fragmentation grenade at a truck carrying employees of Kentron Hawaii Ltd., a construction firm doing U.S. defense work. The blast caught 10 men. All were hospitalized, and six were reported in "serious" condition.

In the air war, U.S. jet pilots flew 161 missions against North Vietnamese military targets yesterday, spokesmen said. The bombers struck mainly in the southern panhandle. Heavy clouds hid targets around the key industrial centers of Hanoi and Haiphong.

persons and continued a request for a variance from parking requirement to Sept. 17. Wells is also giving the city park land on his site in lieu of 34 parking spaces.

Remak questioned the moral right of the council to apply funds collected for parking to anything but parking facilities. He also complained that at no time had either the chamber of commerce or Sausalito artists and merchants been asked to work with the city on the in-lieu ordinance.

Remak requested two or three months delay in adopting the ordinance to allow the chamber time to form a parking district but Mayor Wax said adopting the ordinance would not prevent going ahead with a parking district.

riot, because it can be longer lasting, costly to the society but not wantonly destructive," King said.

The tactics, he said, will be devised at an SCLC staff meeting in about two weeks. King did not say where the meeting would be held.

King said this summer's riots "were a Negro response that said 'inequality will now be resisted to the death,' and blamed them on "the policy makers of the white society." But he said he still was convinced that the Negroes, goals can best be attained through nonviolence.

"The tragic truth is that Congress, more than the American people, is now running wild with racism," King said.

Major Cuts Announced In Medi-Cal

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Major cutbacks in the services provided under California's medical care program for poor people were announced today by the Reagan administration.

Spencer Williams, State Health and Welfare Agency administrator, said it is another case of the new administration being forced to bring under control a wild-spending program enacted by previous Democratic administrations.

For the 1.5 million persons of low income, most of them on welfare rolls, who rely on the two-year-old program for health care, the cutback will mean:

A reduction of those admitted to private nursing homes for treatment.

Elimination of such "routine" surgery as hernia operations, limiting operations "to that necessary for treatment of injuries and life-threatening conditions."

Limiting stays in private hospitals to eight days; if longer hospitalization is required, patients would be transferred to public county hospitals, nursing homes or treated at home.

Payment only for "life-maintaining" drugs, such as insulin for diabetics.

Restricting dental care only to emergencies, meaning a poor person won't be able to get routine fillings or dental treatment available to the average middle-class Californian without paying for it himself.

Complete elimination of such "miscellaneous" services as physical therapy, hearing aids and eyeglasses.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

A Mill Valley woman escaped with minor injuries Monday in a rear-end collision at the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard and the Strawberry Service Road.

Both cars were turning from the northbound service road to westbound Tiburon Boulevard at 2:30 p.m., California Highway Patrol reported.

A car driven by Ann Doris Elias, 44, of 31 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley, pulled into the intersection, stopped at the center divider and then was hit from behind by a car driven by La Vena Katherine Loewy, 56, of Los Gatos, according to the patrol.

Bagley To Give Session Report

Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafel will report on the last session of the State Legislature on the KTIM radio program Sounding Board, 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow, according to the program director Kitty Oppenheimer.

Bagley will discuss cut-backs in mental health, the budget, and his proposed amendments to the Rumford Act.

Questions from listeners will be accepted during the Thursday broadcast that will be taped for re-broadcast at 9 p.m., Thursday over KTIM-FM.

Sausalito Chamber Eyes Parking District

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday decided to investigate the possibility of forming a parking district for downtown Sausalito, President Frank Klineman reported today.

Congestion and inadequate parking, especially on week ends, is the reason for the action, Klineman said.

Long Talks Hammer Out Zoning Rules

Tiburon planning commissioners deliberated five and one half hours last night to finish recommendations to the council on the proposed zoning ordinance.

Most significant changes, according to Commissioner Rampton W. Harvey, included a "drastic reduction" in densities in the multiple zone.

The commission is recommending to the council that ground coverage be 3,500 square feet for the first six units and 3,000 square feet thereafter. Harvey said this would allow less than 15 units per acre, but could not say how much less. The ordinance allowed ground coverage of 3,000 square feet for the first six units and 2,000 feet thereafter, and up to 15 dwellings per acre.

The commission adopted a recommendation from City Atty. Robert Conn for changes in agricultural-residential zoning, that it allow two-acre instead of five-acre lots, with two units per acre under master plan approval.

The area of "Blackie's Pasture" near the trestle was recommended to be changed back to agricultural as it was under county zoning, Harvey said, deleting resident uses and making it subject to design review.

37 Sausalitans Seek Reserved Spaces In Lot

Requests for 38 reserved spaces in Sausalito's new metered waterfront parking lot were received by deadline at 5 p.m., yestarday, Charleine Strittmatter, secretary to the city manager, reported today. Of these requests, two persons asked for two spaces.

Another request was received this morning, Mrs. Strittmatter said, and the applicant was asked to submit the application in writing.

A report will now be made to the city council. Construction date on the 124-space lot behind the Post Office and Shell service station was not known today, the secretary said. Spaces will be reserved for those who have requested them and the remainder of spaces will be metered. City Mgr. George M. Patterson was out of town today.

Hippie's Attire Just Too Scanty

A wandering hippie flutist, wearing a short Mexican-type poncho and a beard, was arrested last night by sheriff's officers for investigation of indecent exposure on a Forest Knolls street.

Officers said the man, who called himself "Super Son" and gave his address only as "The Woods," reportedly had a woman companion with him earlier, but she was not found.

They said Super Son, who later also gave his name as John Stevenson, 21, was playing a flute and strolling along the street in a poncho too short to cover his bareness from the lower waist down.

Stevenson remained in county jail today in lieu of $550 bail. He was scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Sonic Boom

A sonic boom which shook North Marin County at 11:56 a.m. today was caused by an SR71 reconnaissance plane out of Edwards Air Force Base, according to officials at Hamilton Air Force Base.

OBITUARIES

Marcelle R. Byrnes Dies At 71

Mrs. Marcelle R. Byrnes, 71, a resident of Marin County for 47 years, died yesterday at a local hospital following a short illness.

Born in San Francisco, she had lived most of her time in Marin in Corte Madera, last residing at 5643 Paradise Drive.

She was the wife of the late Eugene Byrnes who had been active in politics and encouraged commercial development along Corte Madera's Paradise Drive.

Mrs. Byrnes is survived by two sons, Eugene F. Byrnes of Corte Madera and Robert C. Byrnes of Tiburon as well as three grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m., tomorrow, at St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur, following a procession from the Byrnes Building where Mrs. Byrnes made her home.

Entombment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. A rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. today, at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

Runaway Held On Marijuana

A 17-year-old escapee from the Family Rehabilitation Center was charged with possession of marijuana yesterday after San Rafael police arrested him on a downtown San Rafael street.

The boy resisted arrest and tried to kick the arresting officer while being taken back to the center on Lucas Valley Road, police said. He had walked away from the center five weeks ago.

In searching the boy at the center, authorities found a plastic bag containing vegetable matter believed to be marijuana and charged him with possession.

Airport Taxi Plan Approved

Approval to begin limousine service from the Corte Madera Shopping Center to San Francisco International Airport was granted yesterday to a Sausalito businessman by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The commission approved application William G. Melbern's proposal to operate three limousines "on-call" at a one-way fare of $5. The approval did not include picking up or discharging passengers at intermediate points.

Melbern, of 1601 Bridgeway, Sausalito, now operates Airport Limousine Service providing taxi service to the airport. He said he hopes to begin regular runs from Corte Madera by Sept. 1.

$25 Deposit For Phones Is Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Public Utilities Commission permitted Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., yesterday to require a $15 deposit from new customers who are unable to establish credit.

PT&T had estimated its delinquent bills last year at $12.7 million.

To escape the deposit a customer must have been a telephone subscriber in California for two years and have paid all bills promptly for the past 12 months.

Credit also can be established by owning real estate, being continuously employed for two years, being retired on pension or furnishing a guarantor.

Commissioners also allowed a charge for reconnecting a line temporarily disconnected for non-payment. The restoration charge is $4.25 for residences and $7.50 for businesses.

Battery Stolen

A battery valued at $20 was stolen Sunday night from a parked car owned by Alvin A. Daun of 36 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Jury Rules Norton Sane In Gun Pulling

John Thomas Norton, 25-year-old Muir Beach man accused of pulling a gun on a deputy sheriff June 23, is sane, a Marin Superior Court jury ruled yesterday.

The special sanity hearing panel returned the verdict after three hours' deliberation by a majority of 10-2. A majority of 9-3 is required for a verdict in such cases.

Nonetheless, Norton's lawyer, Carl Shapiro, promptly made a motion before Judge Harold J. Haley that a mistrial be declared because the decision was not unanimous. He also asked Judge Haley, who presided, to overrule the verdict and find Norton is unable to cooperate with his counsel and is incapable of understanding the criminal proceedings against him.

Shapiro also asked for a new trial. Judge Haley scheduled the motions for a hearing at 4 p.m. Friday.

Case of Norton — charged with felony assault on Deputy Sheriff Ronald Spurrell in Tampalpais Valley, and with felony possession of a sawed-off rifle and marijuana possession — had been suspended in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. and certified to the higher court of the sanity hearing.

Judge Goldstein further testified during the sanity hearing that he believed Norton is mentally incapable and appears to be in a "trance-like state."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw opposed this view at the hearing, declaring Norton is sane and must stand trial. The hearing began Aug. 7.

More Assistants For Gov. Reagan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Among 61 bills Gov. Reagan has signed into law is one allowing him three more top assistants at $20,000 a year, it was announced yesterday.

Reagan now is given five such assistants.

Another bill signed by the governor sets up the California Job Training and Placement Council aimed at developing a coordinated system for reducing unemployment.

Other bills signed by Reagan, as announced by his office:

Noise — Prohibits operating motor vehicles which exceed certain noise limits; AB 116, Lanterman, R-La Canada.

Hunt — Makes it illegal to enter private land and tear down signs forbidding hunting or trespassing strengthens rules against hunting on private property; AB 10441, Veysey, R-Brawley.

Drugs — Authorizes state university to coordinate projects on drugs, and forbids state from entering this area without approval of university regents; AB 1399, Biddle, R-Riverside.

Glue—Makes it a misdemeanor to willfully breathe fumes of toluene with intent to become intoxicated; AB 2280, Wilson, R-San Diego.

Expel — Allows school superintendent to suspend or expel pupil for use, possession or sale of dangerous drugs including hallucogenic drugs; AB 2281, Wilson.

Crime — Makes it a felony to offer to sell illegal drug and then to substitute something else for the drug; AB 2285, Karabian, D-Monterey Park.

Elevator — Requires that at least one automatic elevator in tall buildings be equipped so as to go from top to bottom floors without stopping, in emergency; exempts existing buildings; AB 2573, Meyers, D-San Francisco.

Lease — Lets counties lease public property for oil and gas extraction if it won't affect public use; AB 2576, McGee, R-Van Nuysm

Water — Raises from $2 million to $4 million the allocation to the Water Quality Control Board for loans to construct sewage and storm drains in the north Lake Tahoe area; SB 704, Teale, D-Railroad Flat.

Junk — Requires junk dealers to require evidence that person selling certain products such as wire is authorized to do so; SB 1032, Harmer, R-Glendale.

Students — Insures that students at state colleges and university who reside in California but whose parents are in armed forces don't have to pay higher out-of-state fees; SB 1061, Cologne, R-Indio.

Medi-Cal — Prohibits providers of medical assistance under state Medi-Cal program from advertising such services; SB 1138, Sherman, R-Berkeley.

Fire — Establishes uniform rules and regulations on handling and use of flammable liquids; SB 439, Kennick, D-Long Beach.

Odometer — Makes it a misdemeanor to sell or install a motor vehicle odometer which doesn't record the correct mileage driven; SB 528, Carrell, D-San Francisco.

Banks — Allows a bank to make loans to its officers so long as they don't exceed $5,000 at any one time; SG 694, Stevens, R-Los Angeles.

FEPC — Requires the Fair Employment Practices Commission to notify persons or organizations that they are being investigated for alleged unlawful employment practices; SB 857, Lagomarsino, R-Ojai.

Lights — Reserves the use of blue boating lights for law enforcement vessels; SB 1287, Marler, R-Redding.

Pay — Boosts salaries of San Diego County supervisors from $12,500 a year to $16,000 a year; SB 1381, Schrade, R-San Diego.

Subdivision — Requires that a prospective purchaser of a subdivision lot be informed of total indebtedness against lot, including all streets, sewer and other assessments; AB 375, Russell, R-Tujunga.

Notaries — Permits the secretary of state, rather than the governor, to appoint notaries public and commissioners of deeds; AB 794, MacDonald, D-Ojai.

Salaries — Increases annual salaries of Stanislaus County district attorney from $18,000 to $21,300 and supervisors from $7,800 to $8,400; AB 1157, Veneman, R-Modesto.

Autos — Requires 10-day written notice before repossession of a motor vehicle; AB 1410, Ralph, D-Los Angeles.

Retire—Establishes increased retirement allowance formula for Los Angeles County employees and those in other counties who desire to adopt provisions of the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937; AB 2052, Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Schools — Makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to enter a school, or adjacent public way, without lawful business there; AB 2532, Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights.

Recreation, Parks Bill Is Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan has signed a bill creating a State Parks and Recreation Commission and abolishing the existing and separate state park and state recreation commissions.

The bill, signed yesterday, provides for a nine-member State Parks and Recreation Commission, with members being appointed by the governor.

The former State Parks Commission had seven members and the Recreation Commission six members.

The governor also signed several bills Tuesday dealing with drugs and narcotics. One would make it a misdemeanor wilfully to inhale tolune fumes to become intoxicated. The measure is aimed at discouraging glue-sniffing practices.

Another permits school districts to suspend or expel students who use, sell or possess dangerous drugs or hallucinatory substances.

A third bill makes it a felony to sell or offer to sell any substance purported to be an illegal drug.

The governor also signed a bill which he said establishes an orderly procedure for determining how much tax-exempt land in California is owned by governmental agencies.

Reagan said this measure carries out a campaign pledge.

BART's Problems Are Being Aired

RICHMOND (AP) — Two assemblymen opened a hearing today in to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's financial problems.

Both Democrats, they are John Foran of San Francisco and John T. Know of Richmond.

Because of rising costs, the district is considering building only 57 miles of the 75-mile district it had originally planned.

VISIT TO WATTS

'More Awareness' Now

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Three Marin City teen-age girls, interviewed yesterday on their return from attending the Watts Summer Festival expressed "more awareness and understanding" of racial problems at home.

But, they were asked, how can they apply things they learned to Marin City and the community of Southern Marin?

'GOOD THINGS'

"I think our community could do some good things that people of Watts are doing," answered Velena Randolph.

"They have a lot of talent in their community. Marin City has a lot of talent but never gets a chance to really perform for anyone. We could do something like that."

"We're looking forward to having a black student union at Tamalpais High next year and give plays and dances and recite poetry," said Peggy Bullock. "We really had the idea, but this visit has made it even more important. It helps build up black pride . . . they were doing it down in Watts," she said excitedly.

TOO MUCH

"Oscar Brown was too much," said Gerry Carter, speaking of a Negro band leader.

All three girls spoke of going back to Watts again. They spoke of a desire to get exchange students from Marin City to be sent abroad and of exchanging Mill Valley and Marin City students with students from Delano, Kern County, where they visited en route home.

The three Tamalpais seniors were part of a group of 17 Marin City students who went to Watts for the week-long festival.

The festival was first held last year on the anniversary of the 1965 riots. One of the main purposes for the Marin contingents' trip was to learn how a community can help itself.

HEAR CONCERTS

The students participated in a parade, heard five concerts, saw art exhibits produced by Watts residents, but only the boys had a talk with Mohammed Ali (Cassius Clay).

The girls spoke enthusiastically of performers including Bill Cosby, Smoky Robinson and the Miracles, Horace Tapecott, Hugh Masakela, Jean Pace and Oscar Brown.

"All the songs had to do with the Negro — one was 'Brown Baby' . . . when they were doing that I felt like crying," said Gerry Carter.

Miss Randolph explained, "We noticed places to buy food and refreshments owned by Negro people. We say displays by Negroes. We stopped at a place to buy ear rings made by Negro people and Negro people were selling them."

SONS OF WATTS

They walked down 103rd Street — called "Charcoal Alley No. 1" during the riots—where according to Miss Bullock, "all the art emphasized blackness."

The girls noted similarities, they said, between the Mothers of Watts and the Mothers Guild of Marin City, both groups which work to see that their youngsters don't get into trouble. They admired the Sons of Watts, a group of young men who helped provide security during the festival.

"They gave things a lot of pride," said Miss Randolph. "They did things the right way. They didn't need any outside help. They directed traffic, too."

CAN'T COMPARE

Asked if, having had this experience in Watts, they might begin to appreciate and see the problems in Marin City better, Miss Velena said, "You can't begin to compare Marin City in size to Watts. The whole community is Negro and they don't have any bus in or out. I didn't see any movie houses nor recreational facilities except for Will Rogers Park. Their school is raggedy and broken down." Miss Carter added: "The school doesn't look as big as Tam except for their field."

Miss Bullock noted that people were "more friendly" in Watts, people calling each other, "sister" and "brother."

"Pride was just all over the place," commented Miss Carter. "You have to be black to experience this feeling."

ASKS FOR IDEAS

At Delano, on the way back, they met a Lutheran minister who has a chapel in the middle of a cotton field. He asked for ideas on how to communicate with young people.

"Have a talent show," Miss Carter recommended. "Talk with your parents," said Miss Bullock. "He (the minister) said the main thing is for parents and children to have understanding. Without an understanding people can't even communicate."

Asked if they felt that parent-and-child communications is a pressing problem, the girls nodded, yes. Asked if they felt they had good communications at Marin City, they said, no, except in some cases where parents were especially strict.

The Drinkers' Dilemma—The Price Goes Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — It's enough to make a drinker order another shot — or else swear off liquor.

That's the kind of dilemma that faces California tipplers, who will see the prices of most brands go up 20 cents a fifth today.

Ten cents of the increase goes to the state as part of Gov. Ronald Reagan's $1 billion tax hike. The other dime was added by the distillers and distributors when the new prices were filed with the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

Spokesmen for the industry defended the latter hike on grounds that there have been no price rises for a decade while manufacturing and labor costs have hiked.

The fifth that cost $4.99 yesterday probably will sell for about $5.19 today.

Just how the liquor increase will affect the price per drink in bars was up to the individual taverns. Many indicated that the drinks involving cheaper brands might hold steady while those involving more expensive brands would be upped a nickel or a dime.

Boat Blast Knocks Man Into The Bay

A man from Contra Costa County was rescued by the Coast Guard yesterday when he was blown off his boat between Richmond and Tiburon.

Melvin Childers of Rodeo told Coast Guard patrolmen he walked into the cabin of his 18-foot cruiser, lit a cigarette and "there was an explosion."

On shore, Mrs. L. F. Febanse of 4155 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, saw the blazing boat at 11:40 a.m. and called Tiburon firemen. "The water was so rough," said Mrs. Febanse, "and there were no other boats in sight."

Firemen called the Coast Guard, as did San Rafael-Richmond Bridge Toll Sgt. Russell Edwards, who also saw the burning boat.

Two Coast Guard 40-foot patrol boats were dispatched and a helicopter. At 1 p.m. the helicopter reported a tug, the "Paula G" had picked up Chilters from the Bay waters and he appeared to be in good condition. A Coast Guard patrol boat took him to the Berkeley Yacht Harbor.

Guard Bullet Is Fatal To Deaf Mute

DETROIT (UPI)—The latest victim of the Detroit riots didn't have a chance to hear a National Guardsman order him to halt before he was fatally shot July 25. The man was a deaf mute.

Roy Delco Banks died Monday, the 43rd victim of the riots. Police said they have a witness who saw Banks and another man running from an East Side bar.

Relatives and neighbors give a different account of the shooting. Banks and his wife, also a deaf mute, live in a house owned by Mrs. Kitty Williams.

Mrs. Williams and a neighbor, Mrs. Lois Moore, said they were sitting with Banks on July 25 before he went to work at 4 a.m. They said he was shot without warning a block from his home while on his way to work.

Police said Banks was running from a bar when the order to halt was given. He was found lying wounded in an alley. Police said the fatal shot was fired by a National Guardsman.

The police report made no mention of Banks' being deaf and a homicide detective said yesterday they had not known it.

Mrs. Williams said Banks had been deaf since he contracted polio when he was 2.

RAP BROWN UPSTAGED

Watts Goes For Song, Not Speech

By BRUCE COLEMAN

It wasn't that H. Rap Brown was "cold-shouldered" at the Watts Summer Festival but that he was playing second fiddle to well-known blues singer James Brown, Lanny Berry of San Rafael said today.

Brown, the militant Negro under indictment in Maryland for starting the riot that burned out part of Cambridge July 24, was nevertheless, according to Berry, a significant visitor to the Los Angeles city that met the same fate on a spectacular scale two years ago.

SECOND FESTIVAL

Berry returned Monday night from the festival with 17 Tamalpais High School students. It was Berry's second festival.

"Rap Brown came to the festival Sunday," said Berry. "He was mad because he said, 'What the hell are we having all this damn parade for? We should be arming ourselves against the honkies (whites)'."

"The Los Angeles papers said the Watts community cold-shouldered Brown," Berry commented. "That really isn't true. When he came on the periphery, the crowd of almost 40,000 people were ready to hear James Brown. James Brown is probably the most popular black blues singer in America. They almost had a riot as a result of people coming to see him. When Rap Brown came, he had to take his place with all of them. He had to take second billing to James Brown."

MEET CLAY

Berry, special assistant to the superintendent at Tamalpais High School District, said the youngsters had five and one-half "jam-packed days."

He said, "They spend two hours with black nationalist Ron Karenga. They saw the Sons of Watts. They met with Mohammed Ali (Cassius Clay) at the airport Saturday. He talked to all of the kids from Marin City. It was a real highlight for them."

The students stopped enroute to Los Angeles at Lamont, Kern County, at the United Farm Workers office and at Delano on the way back to meet striking farm workers.

NO REBUILDING

Berry's impressions of Watts:

None of the businesses burned as a result of the riots have been rebuilt. Insurance companies will not insure them again.

There is a little better bus service.

Unemployment remains relatively high although we have to give credit to the summer crash programs which have taken a lot of kids off the street.

"Very, very noticeable is the atmosphere which was unlike last year. Last year there was a sort of moving drama of people coming together toward a common effort. This was evident this year but also evident was tenseness.

'VERY AFRAID'

"Last year white people walked in and out. This year I was very afraid for anybody who was white and one white person who went to a park was jumped this year, beaten and died the next day."

Berry related this tenseness to what is happening all over the nation.

There is a sort of paradox in Watts, Berry said. On the one hand there tends to be some growing togetherness of psychological togetherness — like the sign on T-shirts, "black is beautiful," or a fascinating array of natural hair-dos.

BLACK IDENTITY

"This," said Berry, "is all part of a sign of black identity. This probably was one of the most outstanding things. This is part of this growing black identity."

"As you walk down 103rd Street (in Watts) there was a beauty of a multitude of black people dressed in things from native African garb to well-dressed black people. There was a great diversity of dress, color and mood of the crowd. The only other time I saw a similar sight was in Chicago in 1963," he said.

"I have never seen that many black people in my life."

Famed Mining Exchange Has Closed Doors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The historic San Francisco Mining Exchange, which traded more than a million shares a day in the boom times of its 105-year career, has closed its doors for good.

In its final day of trading yesterday, the Mining Exchange reported 22 active issues listed. Only 9,750 shares were traded in the final session at prices ranging from 21 cents to $1 each.

"The volume of business transacted on the exchange has diminished to the point where further operation is not feasible," said George Flach, exchange president, in a statement.

The Securities and Exchange Commission started action in 1962 to revoke registration of the Mining Exchange.

After prolonged hearings the exchange appealed to the courts against charges that the exchange had failed to take appropriate disciplinary action against offending members and that a number of companies had failed to meet SEC reporting requirements.

"For five and one-half years the Mining Exchange has been successfully resisting governmental revocation of our registration," Flach said.

"We have remained open while we fought for our rights in both administrative and court hearings."

Rec District Renews Lease For Tot Lot

Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors last night renewed a lease of facilities to a group of parents for a tiny tot program and approved hiring an extra worker at $70 weekly to assist in day camp enrollment.

The directors said the pool will remain open through mid-October, with weekend hours 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. beginning next month. For students, the pool will be open after school the first two weeks in September and three days a week after that until bad weather arrives.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

4:40 p.m., Fort Barry — Smoke check at Building 923 was for a plastic pot burning in oven.

6:34 p.m., San Anselmo — Small grass fire at the home of Mrs. James Howey, 54 Ridge Road, was started by barbecue; no damage.

11:01 p.m., Sausalito — False alarm from the box at Third and North Street.

1,040 Students Expected At Fairfax Schools

Enrollment at Fairfax schools is expected to be 1,040 when classes open Sept. 11, Supt. H. Reginald Hammond told the District Board last night.

He also announced that teachers will attend planning sessions for the fall semester Sept. 5-8, with 11 new teachers reporting Sept. 5. The total staff of 45 will attend a general staff meeting Sept. 6 and the Marin County Schools institute for teachers at the San Clemente School on Sept. 7.

The board last night accepted the resignation of a fifth grade teacher, William D. Lemley, who accepted a position as language arts specialist at Washington State College. Applicants are now being interviewed for the Fairfax vacancy.

The Board also approved the same bus schedule as last year. Its next regular meeting will be Sept. 5.

Real Estate Offers Inflation Protection

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We are both 72. Pension and Social Security provide satisfactory income. We own our home locally and have a $10,000 house in Florida on which we carry a $7,000 mortgage. We have a $10,000 savings account and own Martin-Marietta stock. Should we pay off our mortgage from our savings account or take half of savings and buy growth stocks as inflation protection?" Rev. C.P.

A. I am glad to encounter a man of your vocation so well situated in retirement. Growth stocks give inflation protection, but on a long-term basis because of merket fluctuations. As the result of spiraling building costs, real estate provides a generally suitable defense against further dollar shrinkage, and in your case, probably a sufficient one. I advise you to use half of your savings to reduce the Florida mortgage. The balance of your debt should ultimately be paid off with cheaper dollars and may be retained. I would strengthen my position by switching this stock into Union Oil of California.

Q. "Although I have not indulged in the market, I do follow its gyrations with interest. I have been advised to buy Moore & McCormack, and being a novice I am asking your advice." A.D.

A. I do not advise Moore & McCormack as an initial purchase for a novice investor. There have certainly been gyrations in this stock both as to earnings and price, too much so in my opinion, for a person in your situation. The company you are considering is mainly a shipper. It depends heavily on federal subsidies and is subject at times to prolonged labor difficulties. I advise you to start with a more stable issue with reasonably predictable growth and suggest Sterling Drug.

Industry Urged To Kill Bias With Skill That Created It

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, called on American industry today to use the same creative ingenuity in hiring Negroes that it once used to exclude them.

"After all, it took real skill to get us into this mess," the 45-year-old Young said with a smile. But he wasn't joking.

40,000 JOBS

Young, a tall man who hides a perpetual-motion existence behind an easy-going manner, heads an organization that last year found 40,000 jobs for unemployed Negroes and helped 8,000 more better their jobs.

The civil rights leader, whose close contact with the white establishment ranges from warm relations with President Johnson to working relations witih the heads of America's largest corporations, described the Negro position today as a vicious cycle that began when he was openly discriminated against, then ignored, then denied jobs because he lacked the skills he never was allowed to acquire.

"We need a domestic Marshall Plan," Young said in an interview, repeating the dream he has had for four years.

TOP PRIORITY

Young said this would give both the Negro and white communities the feeling that the Negro job opportunity gap was "top priority, a national emergency."

"Then the plan would include a massive effort with a timetable, like the space program or the original Marshall Plan, so that the Negro could see that, while everything couldn't be done overnight, something was being done. And of course a timetable would obligate society to follow through."

He stressed the need to provide established groups in the field, such as the Urban League, with resources to carry out and control the program.

"Then we can exercise control in the event of tensions and riots. We can't do that if all we have is a voice with which to plead for peace."

Young pointed out the white business community has much at stake, because if the current trend continues 10 out of 11 of America's largest cities will be predominantly Negro within 15 years.

THE GHETTO

"Business cannot function in an all-black city, in a climate of tension and hatred," he said.

He also cited the economic consequences of cities turning into gigantic ghetto slums—corrosion of the tax base, lack of purchasing power, rising crime rates and welfare costs, and the emergence of less responsible persons as community leaders.

"Industry is moving to the suburbs," Young said, "but it is not assuming greater responsibility in the area of fair housing, although some firms really get into the real estate business for their professional and executive people.

"They can't afford to remain aloof, because as the cities become poorer and blacker, they will suffer too."

Young said that some progress is being made in Negro employment, explaining:

"The policy of practically all the major companies is affirmative and positive toward nondiscriminatory hiring practices. They even are interested in the concept of a special effort to help Negroes become equal in skills so they can make equal opportunity a reality instead of a slogan. Some even go that extra mile in training, hiring, assuming responsibility beyond their own companies."

But Young noted that all too often lower management thinks the top brass makes policy declarations for show, to avoid trouble over government contracts or boycotts, and continues its old practices.

"In some companies," Young said, "the basement may be all black, the first floor will be integrated, but by the time you get to the executive floors it is all white."

Stock Lower At Closing; Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed lower today. Trading was fairly active.

The industrial average was down a couple of points and losers outnumbered gainers in the over-all list.

Advances outnumbered declines in early trading but progressive weakness in some of the key blue chips was depressing and the market gradually worked lower.

Profit-taking on the summer rally and growing anticipation of problems after Labor Day were cited as factors.

Weakness was shown by General Motors, General Dynamics, International Telephone and Du Pont.

Sharp gains were produced by Polaroid, Ling-Temco-Vought and Control Data.

Prices near the close included: Allis Chalmers, off 1 at 40⅝; Fairchild Camera, off 2¼ at 90¾; General Motors, off 2⅛ at 84⅜; Control Data, up 1⅛ at 116⅜, and Ford Motor, off ⅜ at 53⅝.

Production Off

DETROIT — Retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars in the Aug. 1-10 period were 28,548 units for a daily rate of 3,172 units. This was 9 per cent below the same period last year when sales totaled 31,364 units.

Marin Real Estate Sales Up For First Half Of The Year

Early 1967 forecasters that Marin real estate sales would zoom up the second half of this year (and who may have wondered recently if they were actually "on the beam") can now relax a little. Apparently they were.

New multiple listing sales for July were far and away ahead of anything seen in these parts for over a year — $8,279,548 — which was more than twice as much as July, 1966 produced. Number of individual transactions also doubled.

Completed sales of $4,694,065 were substantially above the $3,704,916 in completed sales during July, last year. And it is interesting to note that total sales represented over 94 per cent of the total original listed prices. The year to date lags only about $1,000 behind 1966, but it seems a safe guess that the July record of new sales will stimulate August completions sufficiently to pass last year.

FRANK HOWARD ALLEN AND CO. in a recent real estate newsletter predicted a gradual recovery through this fall to about 70 per cent of normal, with tract sales and low-priced resale homes the least inproved. At the beginning of this year real estate sales were said to be down to about 50 per cent of normal — "normal" being the years of 1963 and 1964.

MEANWHILE in June, Marin real estate loans were also up from June of last year — with comparative amounts $15,667,060 to $12,859,705, according to the Data Sheet of Title Insurance and Trust Co. The first six months of 1967 are still lagging behind the 1966 period by over $12 million.

FRANCIS L. NEWTON of Tiburon, a Marin real estate broker for 25 years, has opened a new office in Tiburon Lodge and plans to devote most of his time to country properties in Northern California — particularly second home and recreation parcels, investment acreage, ranches and oceanside land on the Sonoma and Mendocino coasts. He will also have an office in the Hilton Hotel, San Francisco, with Rebecca Boone in charge.

A former land developer, Newton was 10 years as chairman of the highway committee of the North Council of the California Chamber of Commerce and recently was appointed administrative specialist for the Richardson Bay channel dredging project and assessment district.

A NEW Chevron service station opened this week at 105 Tiburon Boulevard in the Alto area, next door to Sierra National Bank.

The independent dealer of this business is Donald E. Skilling of Novato, former Marin County retail representative for Standard Oil Co. of California. During his 15 years with the company he was station manager of many high gallonage units in Northern California, and prior to his Marin assignment he was a station examiner.

The mechanical department at the new Alto station will be in the hands of Fred Morris, who is trained in the use of oscilloscope tuneups and licensed by the state to install exhaust emission systems.

THOMAS V. LENZ of Corte Madera has been cited by his firm, West America Securities, Inc., for having helped people with their investments totaling over $1 million since joining the company. He was among the top 10 West America producers for 1965 and 1966 and is currently on the same list for the year 1967 to date. He has been in the investment business since 1957.

SAN RAFAEL PLASTICS CO., San Rafael, has been awarded a $33,456 contract by Bell Aerosystems Co., Buffalo, N.Y., for "an ablative liner for simulating a thrust chamber assembly" used on the Apollo Lunar Module.

Market Held Good In U.S.

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, told British industrialists recently that markets for British goods in the United States were "vast."

"Just one area in the United States would absorb the capacity of most British manufacturers once they were established," Philip said in an address before the Council of the Confederation of British Industry.

PETITION DRIVE — Rev. John Thornton, rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito, receives a copy of the anti-war petition from Vietnam Summer Marin staff member Loren Basham to circulate in southern Marin. The Vietnam Initiative Committee seeks to put the war question to a vote in the June primary.

Anti-Vietnam Referendum Roll Circulating In Marin

Representatives of 10 Marin County peace and political organizations have banded together in an all-out effort to put the Vietnam war question to the voters.

The drive, originated by Vietnam Summer Marin began with a legal notice in the Independent-Journal July 12 and now has 253 petitions circulating throughout the county, reported Jared Rossman, Vietnam Summer worker.

He said 500 signatures have been obtained toward the 7,000 necessary before January.

The peace groups united Monday as the "Vietnam Initiative Committee' to keep the project going after Sept. 9 when Vietnam Summer Marin disbands, the 18-year-old Harvard freshman said. "Our organization's aim this summer," he said, "was to establish a basis for community involvement in the war issue."

Actively working to get the question on the June primary ballot along with Vietnam Summer will be representatives of the Marin Conference for New Politics, Young Democrats, Citizens Concerned About Vietnam, Marin Peace Central and People for Peace, Rossman said.

Representatives of Americans for Democratic Action, Faculty for Negotiated Settlement, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, and the Marin Democratic Assembly, have supported the plan, promising endorsement of their membership, but will not supply workers, Rossman said.

Even with the proper signatures, the plan may be in for a rough ride before it reaches the ballot. The Marin County Counsel's office has said the only thing the people can get on the ballot is a referendum or an initiative whose purpose is to initiate or repeal legislation.

Deputy County Counsel Joseph A. Forest has expressed doubt as to whether the plan will qualify as an initiative but his office would study the matter if it reached the board of supervisors.

Rossman, however, said Vietnam Summer attorneys can present sufficient precedent for the petition to qualify.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. last week called for a nationwide campaign for a referendum on the war and said the move is already underway in more than a dozen localities throughout the country.

If the question reaches the ballot, it will read: "It is the policy of the people of the county of Marin that there be an immediate cease-fire and negotiations with all parties involved for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems."

Vietnam Summer, which has been in operation since July 1, has attempted to canvass the entire county to "uncover concern about the war and to solicit involvement."

Returns from the survey are not complete, Rossman said, and will not be tabulated until early September when the organization closes up.

Americans are drinking more beer. The 1966 production increased by 1.7 million barrels over the previous year.

Tito To Brief LBJ On Mideast Mission

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Yugoslav President Tito will send President Johnson a "complete summary of the Arab leaders' views on the Mideast crisis" when the Communist leader completes his one-week tour of Arab capitals, the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today.

Iraqi President Abdel Rahman Aref opened the Baghdad conference of Arab economic ministers with the declaration Arabs "will not lay down their arms and are determined to seek revenge" against Israel.

The Arab economic chiefs were gathered to plot retaliation against the United States and other alleged "supporters of Israeli aggression" during the June 5-10 Middle East war.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said reports of a United States-Russian accord on the Middle East crisis were unfounded. Eban said in a Radio Israel interview there was no reason to assume such an accord was in the offing.

The Israeli leader warned any accord, even between major powers, which was against Israel's interests would not be considered binding.

Tito today was giving Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser a summary of the latest Syrian and Iraqi views on the situation. The 75-year-old Yugoslav leader spent the last three days conferring with Syrian President Noureddin Al Atassi and Aref.

Transit Manager Selection Slated

Marin County Transit District directors, after a three-hour closed session last night, postponed until Friday at 8 p.m. selection of a manager for the district.

Six directors — the five county supervisors plus City Councilman William Jack Adams of Novato — spent the three hours at the Civic Center interviewing and discussing two applicants for the position, which is to pay $18,000 to $21,000 per year. The seventh director, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera, was absent.

As the directors emerged from the supervisors' chamber, Chairman Thomas T. Storer announced a scheduled open meeting to make the appointment had been postponed three days.

This brought immediate complaint from Benjamin R. Ostlind and David B. Vail of the county aviation commission, who had been waiting outside to present a resolution adopted by the commission while the transit directors were in closed session.

Storer then reconvened the meeting in the hall to receive the resolution. It read: "Due to the changing technology of transportation, the aviation commission recommends that the selection of a transit manager should include consideration of a requirement for a broad background in all forms of transportation, including aviation."

"That's one of the things we discussed," Supervisor John F. McInnis assured the commissioners.

One of the two candidates interviewed reportedly has experience as a counsultant to airlines.

The two candidates interviewed by the board were selected from a field of 52 by a three-member screening committee.

The committee itself interviewed nine of the 52 and submitted three names. One of the three subsequently withdrew, reportedly deciding he did not wish to move to this area because of the activities of California teen-agers. He has teen-age children.

Asked why only two were called for interviews by the transit district directors, County Administrator Alan Bruce, who sat in on the screening committee interviews, said the committee had directed that only the three be offered, and had made no provision for substitution in case any of them withdrew.

Labor Pacts Held Hurting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Laws giving members a greater control over union affairs are making it more difficult to arrive at labor contracts, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service's chief said yesterday.

The chief, William E. Simkin, was speaking at the Association of Labor Mediation Agencies' three-day conference.

He said that last year members rejected one out of seven of the 7,000 strike settlements reached by his service, employers and union officers.

The laws, he added, have broadened union democracy, however.

Boats Ransacked Over The Weekend

A thief last week ransacked several boats docked behind Channel Boat Sales, 115 Third Street, San Rafael, and made off with a collection of fishing and swimming gear, police said yesterday.

Festival To Be Interview Topic

Jonn Brebner, executive director of the Marin Shakespeare Festival, will discuss this year's festival during a radio interview from Rubini's restaurant in Fairfax for KFOG, San Francisco radio station, at 8 p.m. Friday.

"Twelfth Night" and "King Lear" are being performed alternately, Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. at the Forest Meadows Theater in San Rafael through Sept. 23.

Valenti Supports Russ Film Festival

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Valenti, the former advisor to President Johnson and now president of the Motion Picture Association of America, has recommended that the U.S. government assure "first rate U.S. participation" in future Moscow Film Festivals.

The way to do it, he said yesterday, would be through "full support, including financial support."

Supervisors Oppose Homesites Division

Marin supervisors, overruling the planning commission, yesterday, unanimously opposed division of 12 Harbor Point homesites under a guide allowing wider development of hilly land.

The unanimous decision, on appeal of area homeowners, was against San Francisco developer Stanley Taylor.

Taylor, seeing to form a total of 21 homesites, argued that "slope policy" under the Tiburon Peninsula master plan allowed Harbor Point lots of 10,000 square feet and 90 feet wide. The planning staff and homeowners argued a slope policy restricting lots to 20,000 square feet and 115 feet in width prevailed.

The homeowners appealed a planning commission directive to its staff on July 24 to map the lot splits under Taylor's proposal. Residents protested his plan would spoil neighborhood character.

The developer labeled this a "great deal of exaggeration." He said adjoining areas, in some cases as hilly as Harbor Point, were more thoroughly developed.

When 75 per cent of Harbor Point property remains unsold 11 years after formation of the subdivision, Taylor argued, "something is wrong that should be corrected." He argued his lots were too large to sell.

As to which slope policy prevailed, the supervisors and County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker agreed the master plan language was "inconsistent" and "confusing."

The board's decision directs the planning commission to reconsider Taylor's application under the more restrictive slope policy.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

AIRPORT — Heeding a petition by users of the Marin County Airport at Novato, agreed to file an air space application with the federal aviation agency and the state aeronautics board to retain the existing runway, due to be eliminated by an expansion program. Also approved Ernest Kettenhofen's request to ban taxiing of planes onto property adjoining the airport to escape parking fees.

HIGHLANDS — Approved deletion of 132 cluster houses and an increase in 10,000 square foot lots in Novato's Marin Highlands master plan, while expressing intent when final plans are submitted to require maintenance of roadside trees to preserve scenery.

WALL — Awarded a $27,364 contract to the Novato firm of Rice, DeMartini and Smith for slide prevention work on Greenhill Road in Homestead Valley.

HEALTH — Reappointed Mrs. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley and Superior Court Judge Joseph E. Wilson of San Rafael to three-year terms on the Mental Health Advisory Board.

APPEALS — Selected San Rafael architect Eugene E. Crawford for a four-year term on the Board of Permit Appeals.

PERSONNEL — Appointed John G. Elliott a deputy probation officer at $650 monthly.

Escorting Tuna Boats Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department has turned down a request that Coast Guard cutters be assigned to escort tuna boats fishing in waters off Latin America.

The request was made by Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., who has accused several Latin countries of "piracy" because they have attempted to enforce claims of fisheries jurisdiction as much as 200 miles out to sea.

Assistant Secretary of State William B. Macomber Jr. told Pelly in a letter yesterday that the department was still committed to negotiation rather than force in dealing with Latin countries that seize U.S. fishing vessels on the high seas.

Auto Hits Power Pole; Driver Cut

Susan Stotzer Teipel, 26, of 133 Mountain Lane, Mill Valley, escaped with a cut lip yesterday when her car went off Panoramic Highway above Tamalpais Valley and hit a power pole.

The accident happened at 2:50 a.m., south of Bayview Street, California Highway Patrol reported. She did not require hospitalization.

More Night Courses Set

College of Marin will offer 120 evening credit courses this fall as compared with 98 last year, Dr. Louis H. Herkenoff, assistant dean has announced.

Twenty-five evening courses will be offered at Novato High School, compared to 16 last fall, the dean said.

Information and class schedules may be obtained from the college office of admissions.

Registration for classes at the Kentfield campus will be Aug. 28 and 29 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. the same time Aug. 24 at the Novato enrollment will be at high school.

Session Is Tonight On School Annex

Two trustees from the West Marin and Point Reyes School districts will meet with West Marin District Supt. Howard F. Brose today at 8 p.m. at West Marin School to discuss possible annexation of the Point Reyes district to the West Marin District.

A story in yesterday's Independent-Journal incorrectly gave the impression that tonight's meeting concerned annexation of the Bolinas-Stinson School District to West Marin, but that matter was concluded when the West Marin board voted against accepting petitions for an annexation election Monday night.

The Point Reyes-West Marin annexation possibility arose Monday night when Point Reyes trustee J. H. Mendoza asked the West Marin board to allow five seventh and eighth grade students from Point Reyes to attend classes in West Marin.

Mendoza said the Point Reyes district would pay the West Marin district for the cost of educating the students, but West Marin trustee Robert Giacomono said he would be willing to take the students without pay if Point Reyes would start annexation proceedings.

Welfare Chisel Plea Date Set

Morland Leslie Turk, 40, one of four persons indicted by Marin County Grand Jury on June 14 for welfare chiseling, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Plea entry was scheduled by Judge Harold J. Haley for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Turk was arrested by sheriff's officers after serving time in Lake County jail on another matter. Turk, a transient, Edward J. Cornwell of Santa Venetia, and Mrs. Hazel M. Oliver and Mrs. Evelyn Winifred Freel, both of San Rafael, are accused of grand theft from Marin County.

The latter three are awaiting trial.

Wheels Removed From Parked Car

Four wheels were removed during the night from a used car parked in the third row of cars at Larry Brink's Used Cars, 635 East Blithedale, Mill Valley police reported yesterday.

Patrolman John Orr discovered the loss, finding the car perched upon two concrete blocks, while on patrol at 3:39 a.m. today. Brink told police that he had shown the 1957 green Chevrolet to a prospective client at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict In Stickup

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday took only two hours to find Peggy Ann Priesman, 26, and Joseph Jarvis, 28, guilty of the April 29 armed robbery of the Bottle Shop in Sausalito.

The panel also convicted both defendants of shooting at Sausalito Police Officer Robert Glynn following the holdup. Judge Thomas F. Keating scheduled judgment for the pair, both San Franciscans, for 9 a.m. Sept. 13.

The defendants still face trial in a shooting at Mrs. Nadine Hall of 125 Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, also following the robbery. The case is scheduled for setting a jury date on the Marin Superior Court master calendar Aug. 28.

The robbery trial began Aug. 8. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales prosecuted, with Public Defender Jerome Durham and Fred C. Robbins Jr., San Rafael attorney, represetnting the defendants.

Two co-defendants in both the armed robbery and the shootings, Frank Henry Brown, 23, and Robert James McFate, 22, both also of San Francisco, are being held by Los Angeles police in connection with robberies there and have not yet been tried for the Marin offenses.

Engineers' Fee Request Denied

The Marin County Supervisors today rejected the request of civil engineers Bala and Strandgaard for $15,000 for services on the Richardson Bay channel dredging project.

The firm's 1960 agreement with the county said fees could only be paid from assessments levied and bonds issued by an assessment district to be formed for the Saucelito Canal dredging.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said it would be a "shattering precedent" to pay the fee from other county funds.

The fee is for engineering work done since November, 1960.

Registration

Terra Linda High School fall registration for new students will be Aug. 14-29, the school announced. Counseling appointments should be made at the guidance department before registration.

Black Panthers Plead Guilty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two more Black Panther Party members from the San Francisco Bay Area have pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct in the May 2 armed intrusion into the State Capitol's Assembly chamber.

So far seven members of the Negro organization have been sentenced to jail terms ranging from 10 days to three months and placed on probation.

Torris Lee, 22, of Richmond, and Willie Thompson, 20, of Oakland, entered their guilty pleas in Sacramento Municipal Court Monday. Judge Oscar A. Kistle ordered them to appear for sentencing Sept. 6.

Six Rifles Stolen

Six rifles were stolen from a closet at the Marinship home of Leon Howard between Aug. 1 and 13, Howard, who lives at Way 2, reported to Sausalito police Monday afternoon. The rifles are valued at $350.

FOOTBALL HERO SANDWICH

Popular Sandwich For The Team

Here's a solid defense against hunger — a continental version of our popular club sandwich, with enticing layers of pasteurized processed American cheese slices, tomatoes, cucumbers and egg salad on Italian bread.

These are the foods you'll find if you visit the training tables of the National Football League. The cheese and eggs give plenty of go during the arduous sessions of play. They also build muscle tissue and condition the body to function at its best.

FOOTBALL HERO SANDWICH

1 loaf Italian bread, sliced lengthwise into 3 slices
Mayonnaise
Lettuce
Pasteurized processed American cheese slices
Tomato slices
Cucumber slices
Egg salad

Spread bottom slice of bread with mayonnaise; cover with lettuce, cheese slices, tomato slices, cucumber slices and second slice of bread. Top with egg salad and third slice of bread. Cut in 6 wedges. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Blend Blueberries 'N Hot Dumplings

A dive into the swimming pool. A tussle with the ocean's wives. A run along the beach. A hard game of tennis. A long walk in the woods.

After the fun of summer's play and pleasures comes another big satisfaction—a good meal.

So, what's cooking?

No reason why the patio table can't hold an easy-on-the-cook offering: a great big salad made with meat or fish plus cheese. But after that you'll need a rib-sticking dessert. We suggest a mammoth skillet brimful of fresh blueberry sauce and light-as-a-feather orange-flavored dumplings.

Just a few tips. Make this dessert so it may be eaten the moment it's ready. If the blueberry sauce has to linger and be reheated, it may be too thick. However, if there are any dumplings left over, they may be refrigerated and reheated and we've suggested how you may do this in our recipe directions.

Now to the size of the skillet needed for this recipe. We used a deep 12-inch size that holds almost 4 quarts. If you use a 10-inch skillet, you had better make sure it is really deep—it should hold at least 2½ quarts.

This blueberry-and-dumpling concoction is an old-fashioned dessert and old-time cooks always served it with what they called "pour" cream. But no matter how we may be scolded by traditionalists, we don't think it hurts the pudding one bit to be topped with ice cream.

CHOCKFUL-OF-DUMPLINGS BLUEBERRY SKILLET

1 tablespoon flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
4 cups cultivated blueberries
Dumpling Batter
Vanilla ice cream or heavy cream

In a 12-inch skillet, thoroughly stir together the flour, sugar and nutmeg. Gradually stir in the water and lemon juice, keeping smooth. Add the blueberries. Over moderate heat, stirring gently several times, bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer for 5 minutes.

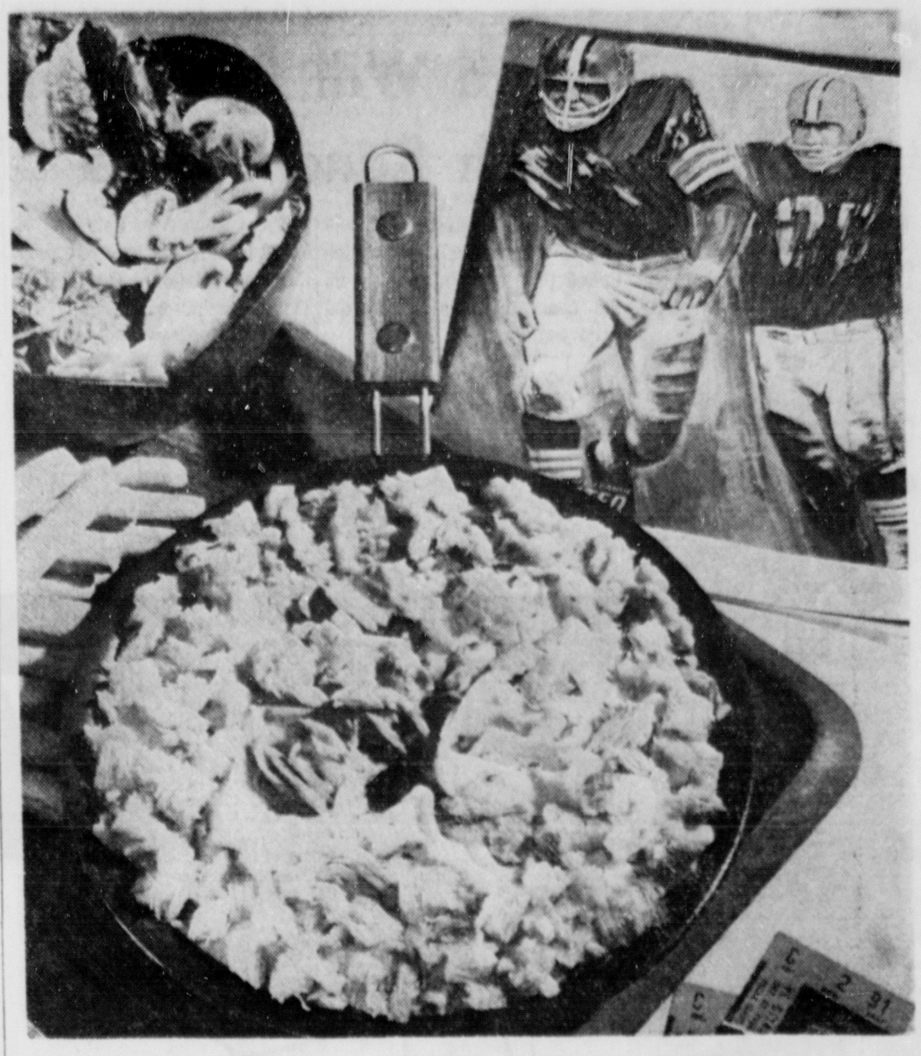
On top of the hot blueberries, drop the Dumpling Batter by heaping tablespoonfuls to make 12 dumplings. Cover tightly and simmer until dumplings are firm and cooked through — about 20 minutes. Dumplings should look dry on top and a cake tester inserted in the center of them should come out clean.

Serve at once topped with scoops of vanilla ice cream; or offer with a pitcher of heavy cream. Makes 6 servings — 2 dumplings per portion. If just 1 dumpling per portion is served because your eaters prefer less dumpling and more fruit, the remaining dumplings may be refrigerated (covered and by themselves), reheated in a hot oven and served with extra stewed blueberries.

DUMPLING BATTER

2 cups biscuit mix
¼ cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange
1 large egg
⅔ cup light cream

In a medium mixing bowl, with a fork, thoroughly stir together the biscuit mix, sugar and grated orange rind. In a small bowl, beat the egg until thick and lemon colored; add cream and beat to combine; pour into biscuit mix mixture. With the fork, stir well to moisten all the dry ingredients and to form a smooth soft batter. Use as directed in the Chockfull-of-Dumplings Blueberry Skillet.



TUNA NEOPOLITAN

TEMPTING

Ladle Out A Tuna Casserole

Twenty minutes after you get home from the game, you can be ladling out this tempting Tuna Neapolitan. And there's plenty for the whole gang. The tuna is tossed with crushed shredded wheat and cheese cubes. A very nice surprise. Serve it with breadsticks and a marinated mushroom salad. Very Italian, indeed.

TUNA NEAPOLITAN

1 (6 oz.) package wide noodles noodles
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon mixed Italian herbs
Dash pepper
2 cups milk
1 (6½ or 7 oz.) can tuna
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup ripe olive wedges
1 cup crushed Shredded Wheat biscuits
2 tablespoons melted butter
½ cup small cubes pasteurized processed cheese

Cook noodles in boiling salted water as package directs. Saute onion in ¼ cup butter. Add flour, salt, mixed herbs, and pepper, and cook a minute, stirring. Gradually blend in milk. Cook, stirring frequently, until sauce boils thoroughly and thickens. Drain tuna and break into chunks. Blend tuna, parsley and olives into sauce. Drain noodles well, and mix with sauce. Turn into shallow baking dish. Toss shredded wheat with 2 tablespoons melted butter and the cheese cubes. Sprinkle over noodles. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes, until thoroughly heated. Makes four servings.

Most Americans Eat Too Much

Last in a series of three articles dealing with diet and heart disease, provided by the Marin County Heart Assn. as a public education service.

"Let us eat, drink and be merry . . . for tomorrow we die." To this ancient fatalistic expression, medical researchers have in recent years added a prophetic corollary:

Depending on what we eat, tomorrow may come a lot sooner than it need to.

America's eating habits, it seems, may be a bit of a short-cut to death.

For one, most Americans eat too much. So observes Dr. Ancel Keys, physiologist who heads the Department of Physical Hygiene at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis and directs a world-wide study aimed at uncovering the reasons why nations differ widely in their death rates from heart attacks.

On the average, he says, Americans devour about 3,000 calories daily while 2,300 would nourish them quite amply. The result according to life insurance company figures is that 48 million Americans are butterballing about with excess weight. Population studies have turned up some striking correlations between overweight and heart disease and diabetes.

AMERICANS also eat too much of the wrong things — namely fats, says Dr. Keys. Typically 40-45 per cent of our diets consist of fat. What's more, the bulk of this fat is of the animal or saturated variety (found in butter, cream, whole milk and beef) rather than the polyunsaturated kind (e.g., most vegetable oils, poultry and fish).

Saturated fats increase blood levels of cholesterol. And researchers have accumulated quite a stockpile of data showing a striking relationship between blood levels of cholesterol and the risk of heart attack. That is, the higher the blood cholesterol, the greater the risk.

Underlying most heart attacks — killer of a half-million Americans a year — is atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, in which deposits of fatty material, mostly cholesterol, pile up on the inner lining of the blood vessels like rust in a pipe and interfere with the blood flow. When this occurs in the coronary arteries that nourish the heart muscle, some of the muscle cells die for lack of oxygen. The result is a heart attack.

QUESTION: In the light of the connection between excess blood cholesterol and heart disease, would cutting down on fat calories and substituting polyunsaturated for saturated fats wherever possible help reduce the heart attack risk?

Many scientists believe it will — at least in future generations. Dr. Keys sums it up this way:

"We are pretty convinced that if you started with children, put them on a low-fat, cholesterol-reducing diet and then followed them for 50 years, you would end up with substantially less atherosclerosis and fewer heart attacks."

Dr. Keys cites studies in Asian, African and Latin American countries where the people eat one-third less fat than Americans, have much less cholesterol in their blood and suffer far fewer heart attacks than Americans. He believes this is directly related to their diet habits. He points out, moreover, that no population on a diet low in fats of the saturated type has been found to have a high frequency of heart attacks.

There's less certainty, though, about how beneficial cholesterol-reducing regimens will be to older American adults with high cholesterol levels. As a nation, Americans are believed to have one of the highest blood cholesterol levels in the world and one of the highest death rates from heart attacks. It is likely that American males have some degree of atherosclerosis by the time they reach their 20's or 30's. This fact was brought home loud and clear after the Korean War when a group of soldiers killed in action — who were barely out of their teens — were autopsied, and in many cases unmistakable atherosclerosis was found in their coronary arteries. Whether a change in diet will offset the disease once it is entrenched is still open to question.

WHILE THE final answers are not yet in, the Marin County Heart Association has felt that the available evidence is sufficient to urge adoption of a "prudent" diet by the general public — a diet substituting polyunsaturated for saturated fats, minimizing cholesterol intake and restricting calories to prevent or overcome obesity.

Dr. Keys has long been an advocate of such a diet.

Arraignment On Marijuana Count

James Paul Van Sanden, 18, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Monday on a felony complaint of marijuana possession. Plea entry was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Van Sanden, of 600 Northern Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, allegedly had three small packages of marijuana seeds and stems in his car Saturday after Fairfax police halted him for having no license plate on the front bumper.

Guard Will Blow Up Sorich Ranch Ruins

A National Guard unit will invade San Anselmo's Sorich Ranch this weekend to blow up the concrete ruins of an old dairy building.

About 65 men of Company E, 579th Engineering Battalion, California National Guard from Terra Linda, will occupy the ranch Saturday and Sunday, bivuacking in memorial park Saturday night, according to company commander Capt. Richard A. Porter.

The weekend occupation will save the city of San Anselmo the cost of demolishing the old building, a cost estimated at $1,200 by city officials. The city's only expense will be $146 for 400 pounds of dynamite.

The area will be heavily guarded, and Captain Porter warned that trespassing could be very dangerous, as explosions will begin on Saturday and continue all day Sunday.

He said the walls of the building will be torn down as much as possible Saturday with a bulldozer, and the area will be cleared of brush to prevent any possibility of fire. A few test explosions will be made Saturday, but most of the demolition will take place Sunday. Porter said the ruins will be demolished in a series of small explosions, rather than any large explosions, to keep disturbance of the surrounding area to a minimum.

The debris will be removed to a location on Sorich Ranch designated by the city, to be used later as fill.

Porter said the maneuvers will not follow a formal battle plan. His men will receive training Saturday night in riot control.

Welcoming The Little VIPPs

PRE-ADMISSION tour guide, Mrs. Robert De Vilbiss, right, greets Matthew McGill, Lynn Forster, Donna Nagle, Mrs. John Del Prete and Johnny Del Prete in the lobby of Marin General Hospital. Volunteers from the hospital's Jack and Jill Branch are conducting weekly tours for pediatric patients to prepare them for their first hospital experience.

EVERYBODY got a balloon after the tour. Johnny Del Prete and his new-found friends, Willi Power, Donna Nagle, Lynn Forster, Matthew McGill, Johnny Nagle and Michael Sterner let off a little steam at the conclusion of their hospital visit. (Burt Levenhagen photos)

Johnny Del Prete, 8, is a VIPP. Johnny achieved his Very Important Pediatric Patient status at Marin General Hospital when he was invited to attend a pre-admission tour of the hospital.

Tours for young patients are being conducted by members of the Jack and Jill Branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers at 3:45 p.m. each Friday. They are designed to acquaint children who will enter the hospital for the first time with hospital procedures and to allay possible apprehensions of the youngsters who face this new experience.

Mrs. Richard Peecook of Fairfax, president of the branch which assists the pediatrics department, explained that 14 of the Jack and Jill Branch's 30 active members had volunteered for the tour duty. Mrs. James Finn of San Rafael is chairman of the program. She was trained by Miss Barbara Johnson, head nurse in the pediatric department, and has instructed the other volunteers.

THE DAY that Johnny got the VIPP treatment, Mrs. Robert De Vilbiss was pre-admission tour guide. Accompanied by his mother, Mrs. John Del Prete, the prospective patient started at the admission desk, then saw the laboratories and the X-ray department, before visiting the pediatrics department. Because Johnny was the only child officially on tour last Friday, Jack and Jill members brought along some of their children to give him a bit of companionship. The other children waited in the lobby while the Del Pretes went into the cheerful room in pediatrics where three small patients were resting. Mrs. Del Prete asked what Johnny should bring the day he comes in to get rid of some troublesome tonsils. She was advised to provide toothbrush, toothpaste, comb and brush, slippers and bathrobe and a favorite toy or book. Mrs. De Vilbiss advised Johnny's mother to have these items labeled for easy identification. She was also told that a parent's post-operative visits are at the discretion of the doctor.

JOHNNY, who observed everything quietly, was encouraged to ask questions. As he was leaving the pediatrics department the boy blurted out his one question: "Can I play with the toys here?" Mrs. De Vilbiss assured him that the toys and books arranged neatly on shelves in the room were given by the Jack and Jill Branch especially for the enjoyment of Johnny and other Marin General VIPPs.

Marin Women

INSPECTING the pediatrics department of Marin General is Johnny Del Prete, Mrs. De Vilbiss, Mrs. Del Prete, and Mrs. Richard Peecook, president of the Jack and Jill Branch, show Johnny what it's like to be a VIPP, very important pediatric patient.

Debutante Pamela Ward To Be Honored

By MOLLY MARIN

Three generations will be represented on Aug. 26 when Marin debutante Pamela Ward is honored at a black tie dinner dance at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Hosting the affair are Pamela's parents, the John W. Wards of Kent Woodlands, and her grandmother, Mrs. Edward Ward of Belvedere. Two orchestras will play for dancing and a buffet will be served at 10 p.m.

MR. AND MRS. Martin Seavers left Mill Valley on July 21 for a European trip that will continue until the end of this month. While they are gone their 16-year-old daughter, Keven, is staying with the William McCurdys in Harvard, Mass., and friends are enjoying their home. Mr. McCurdy, who is the son of Mrs. Alex McCurdy of Mill Valley, grew up and is well known there. The Seaverses met friends in the British Foreign Office, went on to Ireland for the Dublin Horse Show and then on to meet friends in Scotland. They will tour Normandy and Brittany with French friends before returning home from Paris.

MRS. E. G. BUCHANAN of Sausalito realized a lifelong childhood ambition to go through a jungle on her three weeks' vacation in Mexico. She stayed most of the time at a guest ranch at El Caliente, hot springs located 20 miles north of Guadalajara. A hot river runs through the place and many tropical fruits are grown there. She spent one weekend at Lake Chapala and then traveled 190 miles over winding mountain roads to San Blas, where the jungle meets the ocean. Here she realized her dream by traveling through the jungle in a rowboat equipped with a motor.

TAKING TIME OUT from her preparations for the Pro America fund-raising luncheon tomorrow at the Sausalito Yacht Club to show guests around San Francisco is Mrs. S. C. Stapp. Staying with her for several days in Sausalito are her step-daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Neal Peterson, with their children, Bruce and Cheryl, from Los Angeles.

AN UNUSUAL vacation for Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Mote of Sausaltio was a two weeks' canoe trip in Saskatchewan that covered 150 miles with some 40 portages. They were guided by two Cree Indians who took them through some of their favorite haunts. They saw much wildlife and caught some Northern Pike. The trip ended at Quebec, and they managed to see Expo-67 before returning Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. N. R. Brixon and family of Greenbrae have returned home following a six-week trip to such points as Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Tetons, Vancouver and Victoria. Mrs. Brixon and the children had a four-week stay with her family in Seattle and Mr. Brixon commuted between Marin and Seattle to take care of his council affairs. Mr. and Mrs. William Blake of San Rafael occupied the Brixon home during their stay.

THE WALTER FREITASES of San Rafael were among the guests at a dinner last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dwyer in San Francisco given in honor of Mrs. Bob Hope, Alice Faye, Winona Love and Mrs. Jack Hanrahan of Honolulu. Bob Hope and Jack Hanrahan were away for a golf tournament in Colorado while their wives were being honored at the dinner.

THE WILLIAM A. Hamiltons will be hosts Saturday evening at a neighborhood cocktail party at their home in Mill Valley to welcome home from India the Louis Kaplan Werners (Susan Seymour). Susan, who is the daughter of the Kent O. Seymours of Mill Valley, and her husband have been doing research in India for two years, he in philosophy and she in anthropology. Also special guests will be Mrs. Hamilton's brother, Peter Molson, with his wife and daughter, Cynthia, who are arriving Saturday from Los Angeles to spend two weeks vacation with the Hamiltons.

SEEING PLACES of historical interest in the United States was the major purpose of a month's trip from which Mrs. Frank Hamilton and her daughter, Heidi, returned the end of last week to Mill Valley. They went to New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and Montreal, where they spent a couple of days at Expo-67. Their impression was that many people in this country must be on the east coast this summer since there were long lines at all points of interest to sightseers, not just at the fair.

'SITUATION' REPORT

Grocery Store Prices May Show Little, No Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Agriculture Department economists predicted today that grocery store food prices, which jumped sharply last year, may show little or no increase for this year when final 1967 averages are compiled.

Overall, 1967 retail food prices probably will average about 1 per cent higher than in 1966, the department said in a "national food situation" report.

"But average prices for food purchased in grocery stores likely will be little changed from 1966. Most of the 1967 price increase likely will be due to higher prices for food eaten away from home," department economists said.

A Party Girl Gives Trouble To Reluctant Fellow Who Attended

DEAR HELEN:

A few weeks ago at a small party, there was a girl I knew it wasn't safe to dilly-dally around with, so I avoided her. Everybody was drinking and liquor makes her very friendly.

Now she is accusing me of being the father of her expected child. How can I prove I'm not?

—HELP

DEAR HELP:

If you avoided this girl before the party she'll have a hard time pinning fatherhood on you — especially if you can prove she's a "dilly" who dallies. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

We plan to give a surprise anniversary party for our parents soon. One of our sisters has a tendency to bring her three children to these family affairs, then she and her husband take off, leaving the kids, who aren't exactly easy to manage, especially at a party.

How can we get it across that the party includes grandchildren, but only if accompanied, throughout, by their parents?

— THE OTHERS

DEAR OTHERS:

Why don't you say so? Seems to me such frankness is long overdue in your family. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Every night this wonderful husband of mine walks into our bedroom and automatically turns on television or the radio — loud.

Now once in a while I'd like a little quiet, what with five kids. If I should take a nap in another room, he's offended. He seems to think the blare of "entertainment" is essential to a happy home.

I love the handsome guy, but what do other gals do when they get noise-happy?

— PERPLEXED

DEAR PER:

Tell your husband you're jealous of the "outsiders" he invites into your bedroom, when you have so little time alone with him. If this doesn't work, turn down the volume so that it doesn't jar your ears, and be glad he's there to face the music with you. He could have worse faults. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I wonder why short-shorts, or even a bikini on a girl don't cause the eye-popping stares that a mini-skirt does?

— AMERICAN SEEN

DEAR A. S.:

Because mini-skirts are new, and they show up where bikinis usually don't — on Main Street. Also, raised hems suggest more than they reveal. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have this friend I went to school with a few years ago. Since her mother died, she is living with her sister, and according to the will neither can marry until the sister reaches 30, or they'll lose their inheritance.

The sister hates me and won't let me come near the house. She is now 28, and the girl I like is 21. We can only see each other at the library. When I call, the sister usually cuts us off.

I can wait for marriage, if that's the way they want it, but I'd like to see my girl, and she would like to see me. How?

— GERRY

DEAR GERRY:

Your girl is 21, therefore free of guardianship. She may live where she pleases and go where she pleases, and if she's not abnormally browbeaten, she will.

I can understand the 28-year-old sister's fear of losing her money — though it's hard to understand a will that makes this kind of restriction. Try to get it across that you'll wait two years — but only if she stops dogging you. — H.

Instant Knits Are Part Of Package Deal

This is the age of haste—and "instant knits" are part of the package deal.

Perhaps the art of knitting might have been lost to the future forever, if it were not for designer Jeanne Damon's idea for the superized needles that get the job done in a hurry.

Given a few skeins of yarn and a few hours, a girl without any particular dexterity or experience can turn out a dress or sweater to brag about.

Moreover, she can speedily click up personalized gifts for her friends.

After all, the zoom generation can't sit still long enough to purl a pretty sweater or a pair of argyle sox for the football hero the old-fashioned, little needle way.

There is a second and even more practical reason for instant knitting. A teen knitter needs to finish what she started almost instantly or she will have grown out of it before she ever puts it on.

'La Mancha' Cast In Marin For Star's Art Exhibition

The "Man Of La Mancha" came to Marin yesterday. Richard Kiley, who portrays the difficult dual role of Cervantes and Don Quixote in the musical play now at the Curran Theatre, came to Tiburon on the cruiser, McCoy, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Vernan Dallman of Paradise Cove.

The versatile actor, accompanied by 18 members of the "La Mancha" cast, had been invited by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allsman, owners of the Tiburon Gallery, to officially open the exhibit of his unusual sketches, done in ball point pen on plywood, which will be on view at the gallery until Sept. 1. A talented artist, Kiley has combined his two abilities by sketching the portrayals of his roles. This, he finds, helps him set the characterization and also assists with make-up effects.

The boat trip had the air of the picnic of an unusually handsome family. The tall, lean Kiley, informally attired in brown slacks and a blue sweater, had two of his six children with him on the boat. The appealing little girls, Erin, 8, and Deirdre, 5, who had just arrived from Los Angeles, snuggled near their father. The Bay breezes were a bit chilly, so Mrs. Dallman brought a blanket, which the actor solicitously tucked around the children.

FOR THE actors and actresses, the excursion was their first trip on the Bay and their firest trip to Marin County. Several, like Marilyn Sokol, who portrays a Moorish dancer in the play, were from New York, and excited about their first trip to the west. Victor Helou took a number of pictures of the Marin shore. The company will be in San Francisco until Sept. 16.

Cast members were enthused about their star's art exhibit, and mentioned that, as a memento of the play, Kiley had given each of them a set of prints from his "Man Of La Mancha" sketches. Some recalled seeing him work on the sketches at rehearsals. The many-faceted actor is well-liked by his co-workers. Gino Conforti, who has the role of the barber, called him "The most talented singer and dramatic actor in the country today."

It seems that Marin made a favorable impression on the "Man Of La Mancha". Kiley and his wife, Patsey, have taken an apartment near the water in Tiburon for the remainder of the show's run. Their four younger children are here now. Mrs. Kiley has sold their home in New York, and with the older children, David, 20, Mike, 16, and Kathy, 15, is arranging new quarters in the east.

Of his wife, Kiley says, "She was studying child psychology when I met her in New York. Now she is studying it at first hand." (BLF)

ONE OF the sketches done by Richard Kiley, who portrays both Cervantes and Don Quixote in a demanding double role in "Man Of La Mancha," shows Don Quixote and Sancho. The unusual sketches, done in ball point pen on plywood, which is later varnished, will be on display at the Tiburon Gallery until Sept. 1.

Union Aide Demoted In Rebel Skills Move

DETROIT (AP) — Indications are growing that militant skilled tradesmen may snarl peaceful new contract settlement within the auto industry.

Apparently taking cognizance of this, the United Auto Workers union demoted the chairman of its General Motors negotiating team Tuesday night for "association with activities" of a rebellious skilled trades group within the UAW.

Joseph Malotke of Warren, Mich., was fired as chairman. Glen Stack of Flint, Mich., was named to succeed him. The union said Malotke remains a member of its G.M. bargaining team.

Both Stack and Malotke are skilled tradesmen. Malotke could not be reached for comment.

Malotke endorsed a demonstration planned for a week from today by the United Skilled Trades Committee, formerly known as the "$1-an-Hour-Now Committee," headed by Christopher Manning, president of Malotke's home local.

Members of Manning's committee are UAW members and their demonstration is planned at headquarters of Ford Motor Co., to impress UAW bargainers there and elsewhere of a determination by the skilled tradesmen to get a substantial wage boost beyond any general increase in new contracts.

Raid Uncovers Possible Ring To Hong Kong

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard police believe they are on the trail of an international gold smuggling ring financing Chinese Communist terrorism and rioting in Hong Kong, police sources said today.

Submachine guns, rifles, revolvers, ammunition and molds for counterfeit coins were uncovered in raids yesterday on a rambling Bedfordshire farmhouse and a bakery shop in Middlesex.

Sources said the detention of several British businessmen who make regular trips abroad is planned. Messages were dispatched to Interpol and other police forces in continental Europe and in the Far East.

Former British speedway ace Francis "Squire" Waterman, 45, and his fiancee, Avril Priston, 38, were charged yesterday with attempted illegal exportation of gold. Customs officers stripped Waterman's car as it was about to be taken aboard a French ferry at Newhaven, England. They found $28,000 in gold bars.

British intelligence reports show that recent troubles and riots in the British colony of Hong Kong have doubled the price of gold on the black market. The bullion is said to be urgently needed to help finance the Communist-led rioting against British colonial authority and to supply arms and ammunition.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Need For Sleep Varies Greatly Depending On The Individual

VAN DELLEN

Sleep plays a vital role in our physical and mental welfare. How long can a man go without it: I have never found the answer as there is no record of anyone staying awake until he died. On the other hand, lack of sleep for 60 to 100 hours incudes severe fatigue, irritability, and other psychic symptoms.

How long must a person sleep to recover from a prolonged period of wakefulness? The body has phenomenal recuperative powers.

A maximum of 15 hours of uninterrupted shuteye may be essential although many individuals revive completely after eight to 10 hours. The old fallacy that an extra hour is demanded for each hour lost is not true.

SLEEP REQUIREMENTS and patterns of sleep vary with age. Infants get the most and oldsters the least. The majority of adults feel exhausted unless they get seven to eight hours.

We have no absolute standard of the exact amount necessary to maintain optimum health. Thomas Edison thrived on four hours of sleep and 20 hours of hard work. The opposite also is true of those who need 10 to 12 hours.

A friend of mine has a novel way of expressing the disproportion between his sleep requirements and those of his wife. They go to bed at 11 p.m. He rises at 7 a.m. and she get up at 8. "She gets the equivalent of one extra night of sleep each week," my friend says.

IT WOULD be marvelous if we could throw away the alarm clock and sleep until the body had its fill. If this were possible, most of us could follow a normal sleep pattern.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

FOOD VALUE

D. E. R. writes: I eat a big sprig of raw parsley with my lunch and dinner. Is it harmful to eat too much of this food? I have had no bad effects from taking it, so far.

REPLY

No. One tablespoonful of fresh, chopped parsley (4 springs) contains 50 calories. This vegetable, served mainly as a garnish, contains negligible amounts of sodium, fat, calcium, phosphorus, potassium, and vitamins A and C.

LEAD GLASS

A. R. W. writes: I have acquired two beautiful jelly dishes. The labels say "Genuine handcut lead crystal." They are heavier in weight than ordinary glass. Are these dishes safe to use or would there be any danger from lead poisoning?

REPLY

Using these containers will cause no harm. Lead glass is widely used for tableware.

MYELOGRAM

T. N. writes: I have to have a myelogram. Is there any way that this test can be done without pain. I have been told that it is very painful. Also, will this procedure show a misplaced ligament?

REPLY

The procedure is not comfortable but it is not so painful as you describe. It hurts less than the disease for which this test is being done.

HAPPY LANDING

K. T. writes: I had a stroke a year ago and feel fine except that my blood pressure is 200. Can I fly to Miami?

REPLY

Your physician knows your physical condition best and is better able to answer this question than I am. As a rule, hypertension is not a bona fide reason for giving up air travel because commercial liners are pressurized.

HEART MURMUR

E. L. writes: Can a person with a functional murmur have a sound heart?

REPLY

Yes. Functional means nonorganic. A person who has had a functional murmur for 80 years may develop coronary thrombosis, but there would be no relationship between the two heart conditions.

Today's Health Hint — Read the label before taking any medication.

Big Sound At Park Is Banned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Edward A. McDevitt, recreation and parks director, said that the Big Sound, electrically amplified music, has been banned from Golden Gate Park and its panhandle.

A number of hippie organizations have put on programs there.

McDevitt said yesterday that, "I like the music myself," but he explained: "You can hear these jazz rock groups three blocks away."

Sausalito's Tax Rate Same As Last Year

Sausalito city councilmen last night set the tax rate for fiscal 1967-68 at $1.315 per $100 assessed valuation, the same rate as last year's.

The rate emcompasses the general tax, 92.5 cents; employees retirement tax, 19.3 cents; library tax (including the 5-cent building fund override, 19.7 cents.

"Why did it stay the same this year?" asked William W. Remak from the audience.

"I can't say there is any one source of revenue that accounts for this," replied City Mgr. George M. Patterson. "I think it is a combination of many" He cited some new building and remodeling which increased total assessed valuation and said, "we anticipate an increase in parking revenues and in sales tax and assessments are up."

The property tax bill for last year was $234,361. The figure for this year cannot be determined yet, Patterson said after the meeting.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

LIBRARY BEQUEST — Acknowledged a letter from James C. Mickle, president, friends of the library, saying that the late E. Gerry Eastman left a bequest of $1,000 to be used for the new Sausalito library.

CITY-COUNTY PLANNING — Endorsed in principle a plan of cooperation for a city-county planning council but said it didn't like the plan's structure and put off decision on a proposed coordinated city-county police services bureau.

OLD TRUCK — Accepted sole bid of $335 from Bob J. Palmer, 523 D Street, San Rafael for a city-owned 1956 dump truck.

SAND AND GRAVEL — Approved request from United Sand and Gravel for continued use of their sand and gravel yard at the foot of Spring Street.

ILLEGAL SIGN — Took no action but said a sign sought by federal sign and signal at 109 Second Street would be illegal under city ordinance on the basis a sign can project no more than five feet from a building.

METER MAN WAGE — Approved resolution amending salary ordinance to give Harold Hallock, meter repairman an increase from $3.25 to $3.50 per hour.

TOW-AWAY ZONES — Introduced ordinances for no parking tow-away zone on Princess Street near the Princess to Bulkley Avenue Walkway and at 83 Princess Street and one establishing no parking tow-away on parts of Princess, Bridgeway and El Portal to permit the street sweeper to sweep. Persons parking in those areas overnight are permitted to park in city parking lots from 6 p.m. to 9 a.m.

DEL MAR UNIT III — Approved resolution for final map of Sausalito Del Mar Unit III subdivision between Cazneau and Filbert avenues.

ART FAIR BOOTHS — Denied permission to Vietnam Summer Marin, Sausalito Foundation and the county department of public social services to erect booths in front of the Bank of America during the Sausalito Art Festival Sept. 2-4 due to lack of space and granted use of the parking lot a Bridgeway and Bay Street to the Sausalito Arts Association for five days statring Aug. 31.

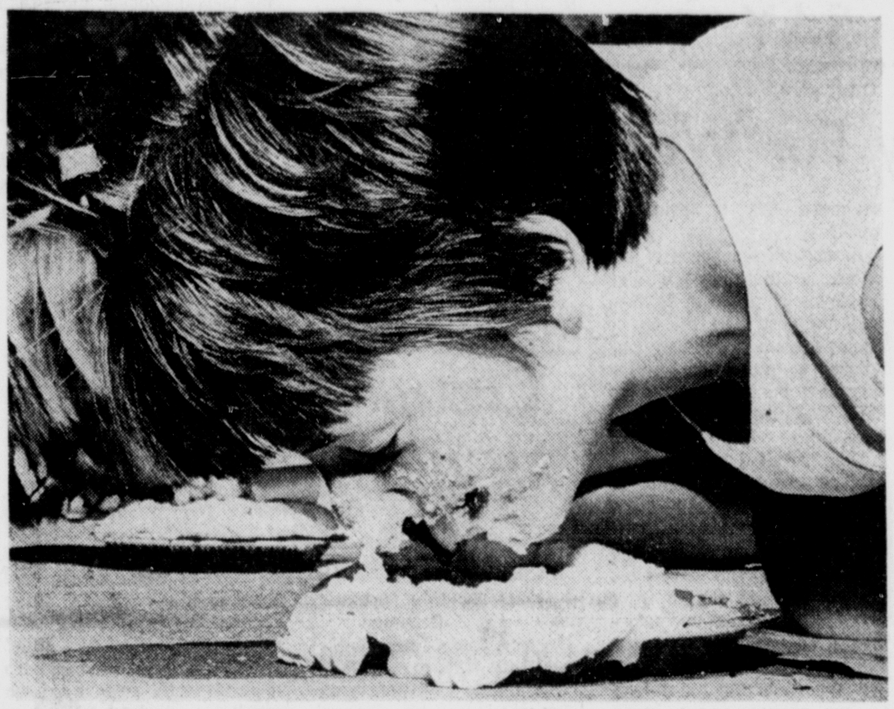
LOOK MOM, NO HANDS!

Charles Mathini took just three minutes yesterday to consume this berry pie during a pie-eating contest, sponsored by the San Anselmo Park and Recreation Department. Chuck, declared the champion, was awarded a sugar decal pig, and a pie in the face by the boy next to him. Then someone dumped a lemon pie over his head and the event turned into a pie-throwing contest. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)



EASIER THE OTHER WAY? — Little Amy Sexton didn't do quite so well yesterday as some of the other 12 contestants. Apparently, lemon meringue just doesn't hold still, especially when your hands are tied behind your back.

Tip Implicates Dope Dealer In Hippie Case

An intensified search was underway today for a 31-year-old former dealer in heroin wanted by sheriff's officers for questioning in the slaying of Negro hippie William (Superspade) Thomas.

The increased interest in the man came with a voluntary telephone call yesterday afternoon from a known informant described by Undersheriff Sidney Stinson as an "unreliable source."

Stinson said the informant told him the man, an habitue of Marin County bars but residing mostly in San Francisco, argued with Superspade about a month ago over the man's attempt to move in on Superspade's huge traffic in marijuana sales.

"We've known about him for a number of days," Stinson said. "We put out word for him to come in. We know he's in the area because he's been seen."

Stinson, who declined to say whether the man is a suspect in the murder, said that he hadn't heard of the quarrel until yesterday's call.

"We want to question him," he said, but added that only word-of-mouth efforts are being made to find him and no teletype bulletins have been dispatched.

Stinson also declined to name the man, or the informant. The man has served time in a federal reformatory for conspiracy to sell heroin, Stinson said.

The body of Thomas, a known dealer in narcotics, was found Aug. 6 crammed in a sleeping bag dumped over a cliff in Point Reyes. He had been killed by a shot in the back of the head, and was stabbed.

Stinson said he was told the man being sought had obtained a large quantity of marijuana from Superspade's Los Angeles supply source.

Superspade apparently resisted the effort to cut into his illegal territory, the informant said, and the argument occurred. Stinson was told Superspade then took possession or purchased the man's supply.

The officer added the investigation is also continuing in the hippie pads of San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district in the belief that the key to the murder may be there.

Condition Fair

David Harold Chapman, 28, of Inverness, was reported continuing in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with fractured ribs and a bruised back, suffered in an auto accident Sunday on Shoreline Highway four miles south of Marshall.

Board Calls Bruce To Closed Hearing

Recent "actions" and "public pronouncements" by Administrator Alan Bruce that affect county governing policy will be discussed Aug. 29 at a closed session of the board of supervisors.

Supervisors John F. McInnis, who requested the meeting yesterday, would not elaborate on his reasons.

Bruce, summoned to attend, declined comment.

McInnis, asked by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney whether the session would meet state law restricting private sessions of local governing bodies, replied it would.

The Ralph M. Brown Act forbids executive sessions other than to hire, fire or hear charges against an employee.

Bruce was last summoned into private session with the supervisors in the spring of 1966 in connection with the firing of Walter Bremond as director of community relations for Marin.

The Aug. 29 session with Bruce will be at 9 a.m., before the regular meeting of the supervisors.

Still Missing

Phillip Arthur Adcox, 15, of 1628 San Jose Boulevard and David R. Minard Jr., 15, of 5 Norma Court — Novato boys who have been listed as runaways since July 25 and 28 respectively — are still missing, according to Novato police.

Falcon Appears Tame And Lost

Mrs. Herbert Edger, 30 Reed Ranch Road, Tiburon, reported to sheriff's deputies today that a brown and cream colored falcon, has been flying around her house since yesterday.

She thinks it may be one reported lost in Oakland.

Mrs. Edger told Lt. William Johansen the bird appeared lost and was tame. Yesterday he landed on a boy's arm and today on her daughter's arm, she said.

The falcon has two leather thongs hanging from each leg.

Supervisors Order New Hearings On West Marin Plan, Density

By DAVID DIETZ

The West Marin Master Plan was sent yesterday on a trip that may lead it to the treash can after four years' work.

By a 3-2 vote, the county board of supervisors ordered the planning commission to open new hearings on the plan and recommended residential density be raised to 1.15 units per gross acre.

BONUS SYSTEM

Current plan density averages .88 to 1.15 units, with the ceiling permitted developers only under a bonus system.

If the boost is approved, warned county planning director Paul C. Zucker, a new plan would have to be drawn because the present one could not absorb the increase.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reminded that the planning commission could ignore the board's request for a density hike.

After three years of debate, chiefly surrounding the density issue, the master plan was adopted by the supervisors July 11. It was reopened a week later, however, because supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen wanted further density review.

Kettenhofen was the principal advocate of new hearings yesterday, joined by Supervisors John F. McInnis and William A. Gnoss. Dissenting in the vote were Peter H. Behr and chiarman Thomas T. Storer.

DECISION DEFERRED

The question of whether to include a bonus provision in their higher density recommendation also was raised by the supervisors, but a decision was deferred a week.

As requested by the boad, Zucker presented density figures from other master plans in Marin for comparison. But he cautioned against this procedure because of the "unique" topography and environment in west Marin.

Kettenhofen attacked the .88 to 1.15 "compromise" reached on density by the board July 11. Noting conservationists had asked one residence per acre and property owners 1.3 units, he said a density of 1.15 would be a "true" compromise.

Kettenhofen said he had taken "a great deal of licks and a lot of wounds" for his stand, but vowed not to relent "regardless of what it costs me politically."

'WON'T ANSWER'

The supervisor said he had challenged Zucker to prove a further density increase would imperil the plan but "he won't answer me."

"To say the plan has to be scrapped, he's completely incorrect," Kettenhofen asserted. "The great, great majority of it can be saved."

While allowing that consultants Harold and Mary Summers and Daniel P. Coleman, who presented the plan in 1964, had provided for expansion, Storer argued that the density had nearly doubled in three years and was "at the limits of safety right now."

The chairman called Kettenhofen's proposal for 1.15 units the "height of madness" that would urbanize West Marin. If it were accepted by the board, "I suggest we fire the planning director and his staff and disband the planning commission" because they strongly advised against higher density, Storer said.

Behr feared higher density would cause property owners in low density planning areas to "feel cheated," may influence similar concessions for areas adjoining the master plan, and would invite West Marin "hit and run developers who cause planned accidents and leave us with the residue."

Gnoss contended that 1.15 units per acre would "give the average citizen the opportunity of buying a lot that he will be able to afford."

Taxing Jurisdictions: One On Every Corner

The helplessness of the taxpayer in trying to police his own taxes is shown dramatically by a report just issued by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy on "Financial Transactions Concerning Special Districts of California."

Flournoy's report shows there were 3,628 special districts in operation in the state during 1965-66. This was 104 more than the previous year. By now, the number has doubtless gone up at least another 100.

These are taxing districts in addition to counties, cities, school districts and irrigation districts.

They have multiplied rapidly in California in recent years, largely because the legislature has yielded to entreaties to create all sorts of special purpose districts.

MARIN HAD 77 such special districts at last count. (They are like rabbits — hard to keep tally.) Thirty-nine of these were under control of the county board of supervisors — but with a special separate tax rate set for each. The remaining 59 are self-governing with selected boards of various sizes.

In addition, 21 school districts levy taxes in Marin County, as do 11 cities.

Two of the cities — Novato and Tiburon — have been incorporated in recent years. One of the principal arguments for incorporation is to get rid of overlapping special districts. Yet in Novato and Tiburon, the sole such result has been elimination of two county lighting districts.

Residents of some areas in the City of Tiburon must pay property taxes to 13 different entities.

COMMENTED State Controller Flournoy in his report: "The growth of taxing jurisdictions in California has been strongly criticized, but attempts to curb this growth have not been successful, at least if the 100 districts per year increase is any indication."

Flournoy's report listed 49 classifications of special districts ranging alphabetically from air pollution control to waterworks.

The citizen may think he is keeping an eye on the budget and tax rate if he attends county supervisors' budget hearings. But these concern only the county levies that take 22.64 cents of the average Marin tax dollar.

If he would keep track of where his money goes, the citizen must also attend budget sessions of city, school district, and various special district boards.

A Terra Linda resident, for instance, pays taxes to the Terra Linda Community Services District, Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District, Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, Dixie School District, San Rafael High School District, Marin Hospital District, Marin Junior College District, Marin Mosquito Abatement District, Marin Municipal Water District, and perhaps to a lighting district (depending on where he lives), as well as to the County of Marin.

It would be a rare man who could patrol them all!

AS FLOURNOY NOTES, attempts to curb this proliferation of tax eaters have been futile. The only hope would appear to be in legislation which will force them out of existence.

Almost all the functions performed by the special districts are properly functions of cities and counties. But neither city nor county governments will assume them as long as the easy way of creating more special districts remains open.

August Insect Serenade

The insects in August are a musical lot. In the periwinkle bank the insects hum and scrape and click in counterpoint to the popping grass seeds on the dry hill above.

In the hour or so after the sun sets behind Mount Tamalpais, the lonely crickets serenade their bashful mates beneath the ancient oaks. So precise is their chirping, that a formula exists by which the number of chirps per minute can give one the exact air temperature.

This is the time of the year for insect music.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Special Need May Vanish, But The Taxes Go On Forever

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — High taxes are a common subject for discussion these days, and one of the reasons there are high taxes at the local level stems from the growth of the special district method of government.

This growth is little short of fantastic, accourding to a report made by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, who is required to produce annual figures on financial transactions concerning special districts of California.

His report, just out for the year 1965-66, shows the growth is at the rate of more than 100 per year. There were, at the time his report was closed, a total of 3,628 special districts in operation, which was 104 more than the previous fiscal year.

This means that if they were averaged out, there would be more than 63 special districts in each of California's counties, but of course, there are more in some counties and fewer in others.

THE MAGNITUDE of their operations is reflected in the fiscal transactions recorded with the controller.

Revenues received from all sources amounted to $752,168,980 and expenditures totaled $892,737,117.

"The controller's office," said Flournoy, "published its first annual report on special districts in 1951, covering 1,797. In this year's report, 16 years later, the number has grown until it has more than doubled.

Government by special district is a relatively easy method of obtaining services which in many instances could be performed by private enterprise.

IN THE CASE of water supplies, special districts have been formed in various parts of the state to buy out private water companies.

Recreation districts have been formed to take over the operation of marinas, and for other purposes as well.

There are 49 classifications for which special districts can be formed, the outstanding category being water problems, which accounts for 632 districts.

Fire protection is normally considered to be a community enterprise, and special districts in this category account for a total of 465. Highway lighting accounts for 385 special districts, and sanitation 267, while there are 148 cemetery districts.

Growth of this type of government reflects the growth of demand by certain segments of the population for government services.

THE QUESTION is how far the people can go in requiring these services, and whether or not in many instances, they should be performed by the cities and counties. If such were the case, it follows there would be less of a demand for the services, as a greater number of people would be required to pay for them. The special service looks good when first proposed, but the taxes go on forever.

Social Anarchy To Pay For War

(Editor's note: The Independent-Journal today uses the space usually alloted for "What Our Readers Say" to reprint an editorial from another newspaper which we found particularly thought-provoking and wished to bring to our readers.)

Reprinted from
St. Louis Post-Dispatch

While the cities continue to explode, one after another, it is a symptom of the paralysis of national will that no truly adequate program to deal with the causes of the crisis is being seriously considered by either Congress or the President.

Congress is obviously in no mood to do much of anything. President Johnson can think of nothing better than to reiterate support for programs that have been shown to be inadequate — and meanwhile launch one more investigation. Perhaps the Kerner commission can contribute something useful, in the fullness of time, but the chief causes of urban violence have already been diagnosed so thoroughly that the principal need is for somebody to pay attention to all the investigations that have gone before.

Every study of the Watts explosion, which occurred two full years ago, has agreed that chronic and acute unemployment in the urban ghetto was one of its major sources. For years a parade of urbanologists has been warning the country that upheavals would continue so long as the job problem remained unsolved. The Ribicoff subcommittee on executive reorganization conducted year-long hearings on the federal role in urban affairs, and witness after witness cited unemployment as the key factor in the riots. Brandeis University's Center for the Study of Violence analyzed six cities and found that a majority of Negroes in the ghettoes saw a direct connection between riots and limited job opportunities. Can anybody doubt it?

Interestingly enough, employment is the one field in which immediate action could be taken. Improved education, urban renewal, better housing, training for skilled jobs in private industry — filling such needs of the depressed one-tenth of our population will take time, much time, more time than we may be permitted. But jobless men can be given work simply by a national decision to do it.

"Let us not wait for the job training programs," Sen. Thruston Morton urged the Senate, in proposing a presidential fund to put people to work "right now" in public services. There is not a fire department in the country, he said, that does not need more men; let the President hire them. Senator Ribicoff, who has already introduced the necessary legislation, noted that every hospital in the country can use more employees. Let the President hire them. Every park system needs extra maintenance workers; let the President hire them. Streets need cleaning and repair. Auxiliary policemen could be used in every city. More playgrounds are needed. Schools need rehabilitation. Postal services could be expanded, with a return to twice-a-day deliveries. National park development could be speeded up. . . . Wild rivers and scenic rivers could be preserved. The attack on air and water pollution could be redoubled. There is an endless catalogue of useful and urgently needed work to be done; let the President hire the men to do it, and hire them now.

No such emergency employment program is seriously contemplated. Yet it is needed more now than it was during the depression of the '30s. As many as 20 to 30 per cent of the depressed people in our central cities are without work, or without adequate work. Unemployment is especially concentrated among the young people of those areas, and it is the young people who do most of the rioting. Why do we not recognize that idleness of these proportions is a socially explosive force, to be mitigated only by providing work?

Among all the needs of our cities, a massive public employment program is first and foremost. The reason no such program is serously considered is, quite plainly, that it cannot be financed on top of a $26-billion-a-year war in Vietnam.

The President may talk all he likes about our ability to afford both the war and the picking at the fringes of our domestic problems which he advocates, but he knows as well as anybody that a truly massive attack on unemployment, on a scale commensurate with the problem, is politically impossible so long as our resources are being drained away in the jungles of Asia. That is why he does not propose such a remedy. The price of his war is social anarchy in our cities. Is the country really ready to pay that price?

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

IN "GROUCHO Letters," published by Simon and Schuster, Groucho Marx tells about two of the biggest laughs he ever earned in vaudeville.

One took place when Zeppo emerged from the wings to announce, "The garbage man is here," to which he replied, "Tell him we don't want any," and the other, when Chico shook hands and said, "I'd like to say goodbye to your wife," to which he snapped, "Who wouldn't?"

A wealthy old codger eyed an aspirant for his daughter's hand with ill-concealed suspicion. "In the unlikely event that I consent," he harumphed, "I take it you'll be expecting a handsome dowry. May I inquire what you propose to offer in exchange?" The aspirant answered hopefully, "How about a receipt?"

California Democrat Defies Unanimous Ruling Of Congress

WASHINGTON — A few high-handed, power-minded Democratic committee chairmen in Congress today must think their party is going to keep control forever. They seem to believe that the minority ought to be kept under heel, speak only when spoken to and then say very little.

A unique and egregious example of this came out the other day in the House during a debate led by Rep. James C. Cleveland, R-N. H., on minority staffing for the Science and Astronautics Committee.

The chairman of this committee is Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif. Let the facts speak for themselves:

By unanimous vote the Democratic and Republican members of the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress adopted the principle that each committee shall have staff experts selected by and responsible to the minority whenever the minority shall so request.

The congressional reform bill, passed overwhelmingly by the Senate and now waiting action by the House, provides that for all committees "at least two of the authorized professional staff positions shall be appointed by and assigned to the minority."

Chairman Miller of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics refuses to honor this principle.

The facts speak for themselves and here is an additional fact which speaks louder than all of the others:

Representative Miller is the only chairman of a House committee without any staff assigned to and responsible to the minority where there has been a reasonable request for such assistance.

Chairman Miller is unique —unique in a one-sided, high-handed way which ought not to be allowed to continue. Even Mr. Miller's fellow House Democratic chairmen have come to see that such one-sided high-handedness is short-sighted because the time will come when the Democrats will not be in control and could then be the victims.

Much legislation and most committee reports are shaped by the expert staff. When all of the experts on a congressional committee are responsible — for their appointments and for their work — to the chairman and the majority party, they do not busy themselves helping the minority to develop investigations, special information and policies alternative to those of the chairman or of the Administration.

Would you want to have your defense in court handled by counsel appointed by the prosecutor and responsible to him?

The Science and Astronautics Committee of the House oversees an agency of the federal government — SNSA — which has one of the largest budgets, more than $5 billion a year. In a two-party system the minority is simply unable to do its job effectively without staff serving the minority and responsible to it.

It seems incredible that Representative Miller is able to get away with the kind of high-handedness — and short-sightedness.

Larkspur Getting Bargain In Library

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The I-J Reporter's Notebook by Carol Marsh on Aug. 10 was quite accurate and factual except for an explanation of why Larkspur taxpayers pay only 10.5 cents for their library — they do not pay rent; it is in the City Hall, gratis janitorial service or building and maintenence $100 per year. (Really if I allowed my boys to do this once a week for 52 weeks it would be a larger sum.) The insurance on the budget ran $165. Now where do we have the amount of employees and public covered for liability and compensation for this amount?

Hope Larkspur thanks God for their past bargain!

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Mr. (Ronald L.)Usher gave me the figure of $37,125 that we would receive for the library in Corte Madera since $43,789 is to be spent. Since Larkspur found they needed more space and found the financing difficult, our Mayor (Edward W.) Colthurst approached them to form a Larkspur-Corte Madera Library with the thought of disassociating Corte Madera from the county branch system and the Ross Valley branch.

Why should two country branches be thrown out when Larkspur could join the county? The alternate form our mayor chose (with a wife working for the county) was to form a joint powers agreement which can issue revenue bonds with no election required.

Let's avoid what Mill Valley had to do. Since they cannot go over the state allowance of 30 cents per hundred to meet the operating expense, they've resorted to 10 cents fine per day instead of 5 cents.

Castro In League With Black Power

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Fidel Castro is going to personally carry his campaign of "violence, hate, and terror" against the U. S. to our shores.

The Cuban Communist dictator will launch his new anti-U. S. offensive with a major speech in New York during the coming September meeting of the United Nations General Assembly.

U. S. and Latin American revolutionaries meeting in Havana last week were told of Castro's travel plans by members of the Cuban delegation attending the sessions of the Latin American Solidarity Organization.

In addition to his U. N. trip, the Cuban delegates reported, Castro will travel to Canada for a visit at Expo '67, and then fly to Moscow for the Communists' October celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

While in New York City, Castro also plans several meetings with Black Power militants, including Stokely Carmichael, now his guest at the LASO convention aimed at fomenting revolution in the Western Hemisphere.

One report given U. S. intelligence authorities by a diplomat of a friendly foreign government stationed in Havana quotes the Cuban delegates as saying:

"Castro plans to use the U. N. forum to encourage Negroes to wage guerrilla warfare in the U. S. He believes the time is ripe to touch off a civil war in the U. S. By using the U. N. and meeting with Carmichael and other militant blacks on U. S. soil, Castro hopes to instill a spirit of open rebellion among Negro dissidents."

THE WELCOMING COMMITTEE — Whether Carmichael is on hand to meet Castro or carry out Havana conference objectives will depend a great deal on what the Secret Service is permitted to do.

In contrast to the Justice Department's do-nothing policy, Secret Service officials have informed the White House they are considering arresting Carmichael for his public threats against the President, when he returns from Cuba.

Tapes of remarks Carmichael made about the President in several London speeches and lectures are being examined by the Secret Service. The British have barred Carmichael from returning to that country because of his inflammatory speeches.

Statements about President and Mrs. Johnson by H. Rap Brown, head of the Student Nonviolence Coordinating Committee, are also being examined by the Secret Service.

Brown, now free on bond after being charged with inciting a riot at Cambridge, Maryland, constantly calls the President "a mad, wild dog that must be stopped at all costs."

Shirt More Important Than Skin; What Cooled Annexation Ardor?

A Pacifica boy who fell 20 feet from a cliff on Angel Island last Saturday was apparently more concerned about his favorite shirt than his injuries.

Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff included in his report that as an ambulance attendant knelt by Scott T. Holland, 8, the boy learned the attendant planned to tear his shirt to determine his injuries, before moving him.

The boy began to cry as if in great pain. The attendant asked him where he hurt.

"Nowhere," answered young Scott, "but this is my good shirt and I don't want it cout."

Finally, the attendant agreed to just raise the boy's shirt to look him over.

His injuries were a fractured left arm and a bruised back.

AN IRONIC NOTE last week was the news that a substantial number of protests against annexation by Tiburon came from a group of 25 people headed by an Eagle Rock resident, Douglas de la Fontaine.

Only four months ago, another Eagle Rock resident, David Dooley, headed a committee eager to encourage annexation to Tiburon of all unincorporated areas on the peninsula.

At that time, I heard comments from some wildly enthusiastic residents of the northern end of the peninsula, acclaiming the city, its council, its planning commission and its city manager.

What cooled off the area? At the protest hearing by the council last Thursday, I overheard some comments that provided clues.

Some residents feared annexation would bring higher taxes. Some felt Tiburon would not offer "anything we don't already have." One resident mentioned, "They've been having some sneaky, secret meetings." Another disapproved of the lateness of a final budget being adopted by the city.

I got the feeling that some property owners were not wholly opposed to the idea of annexation for the future but felt the time was "not now."

At this writing, the protest petitions are still being "processed" to determine if they represent 50 per cent of the property valuation of the unincorporated area.

DANTE LELAND was one of Tiburon's gentle characters and he is missed. Most frequent view of "Mr. Dante" was seen when he was walking his dog, "Jeff," on a leash.

Mr. Dante and his little fox terrier both had great dignity. Residents and business people in the downtown area miss his cheerful "hello."

Since his death, Mr. Dante's dog has been left an "orphan." Some friends on Main Street, Mrs. Anna R. Fong and Raphael Soriano, have been looking after him, temporarily. But a dog-loving friend tells me that Jeff needs a permanent home and hints that he likes children.

One-Day Record For Gate Bridge

A one-day traffic record was established on the Golden Gate Bridge Sunday with 97,850 vehicles crossing.

It was the third time in four months that a new mark had been set. Previous high figure was 97,569 on Sunday, July 16. Bridge officials said the record traffic caused some unavoidable congestion and backup in both directions on the approach roads, but the traffic moved comparatively smoothly on the bridge. There were no accidents reported.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Spirit Of Adventure Can Prove Disaster For Hand

Quite a few years ago a gent by the name of Steve Brody took a chance by jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge.

It was an adventurous move, but that is about all a good bridge man can say for it. The spirit of Steve Brody still lives in today's hand.

CAPTURES KING

South won the first trick with the king of hearts and led the queen of spades for a finesse. When this succeeded he continued with the jack of spades and then with a third spade, capturing West's king.

Ths success of the trump finesse stimulated South's sense of adventure into trying his luck with a diamond finesse. If he could guess the location of the jack of diamonds he could easily win either 10 or 11 tricks.

SETTING TRICK

With this in mind declarer led a low diamond from dummy to his own king, intending to finesse later through West for the jack. West won with the ace of diamonds and led a club, whereupon East took two club tricks and got out safely with a heart. Eventually East took the setting trick with the jack of diamonds.

ALL GUESSES WRONG

South would have made his contract if he had finessed with the 10 of diamonds instead of playing the king, but this would still be the wrong play. It may be adventurous, but it is also foolish for South to tackle the diamonds by himself.

After drawing three rounds of trumps South should take the top hearts and then lead a club. The defenders can take their two club tricks, but then they must give the contract to declarer. If they lead diamonds, South gets a free finesse; and if they lead anything else, dummy ruffs while South gets rid of a diamond.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, the next player bids one heart, and you hold:

♠ Q J 10 9 7
♥ K 6 2
♦ K 10 2
♣ 8 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

Your hand and your spade suit are both strong enough for this free response.

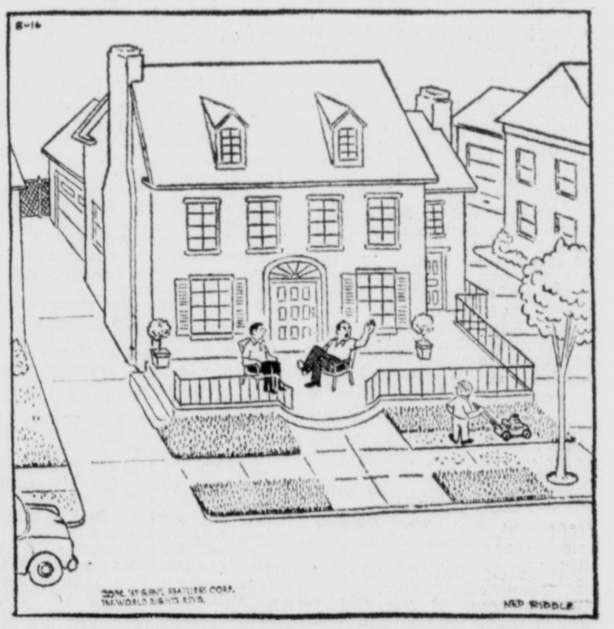
Police A Bit Vain With Poster Boasting

LONDON (UPI)—The Evening Standard believes the police should use more judgment as to where they put up their posters.

The newspaper reported large sign in one London railway station reads: "God is our refuge and our strength." Right next to it, said the Standard, is a police poster reading: "He can't be everywhere. Call a policeman if you see anything suspicious or if you need help."

MR. TWEEDY — By Ned Riddle



"Quit complaining! When I was your age I had to mow a lawn almost twice as big as that."

SHADY OAKS

Grace the well-landscaped yard of this 2-bedroom house on a pleasant street in the desirable Broadmoor area. The living room is panelled & carpeted and features a brick fireplace, and the kitchen is large with breakfast and laundry areas. Opening off the living room is a delightful view deck — partialily covered and most inviting for barbecues or just plain relaxing.

EDWARDIAN CHARM

The entry garden of this older home, with its trees and flowers that evoke an earlier era, casts a magic spell over the visitor, and like a time machine takes him back to the world of yesterday. Irene Castle might have taken tea on the spacious, enclosed porch, and then danced her way into the living-dining room with its wainscoating and painted brick fireplace. If you're nostalgic for a gentler time, yet want the conveniences of today, this 3-bedroom, 2-bath house is for you.

Bid Call Set On Highway 1

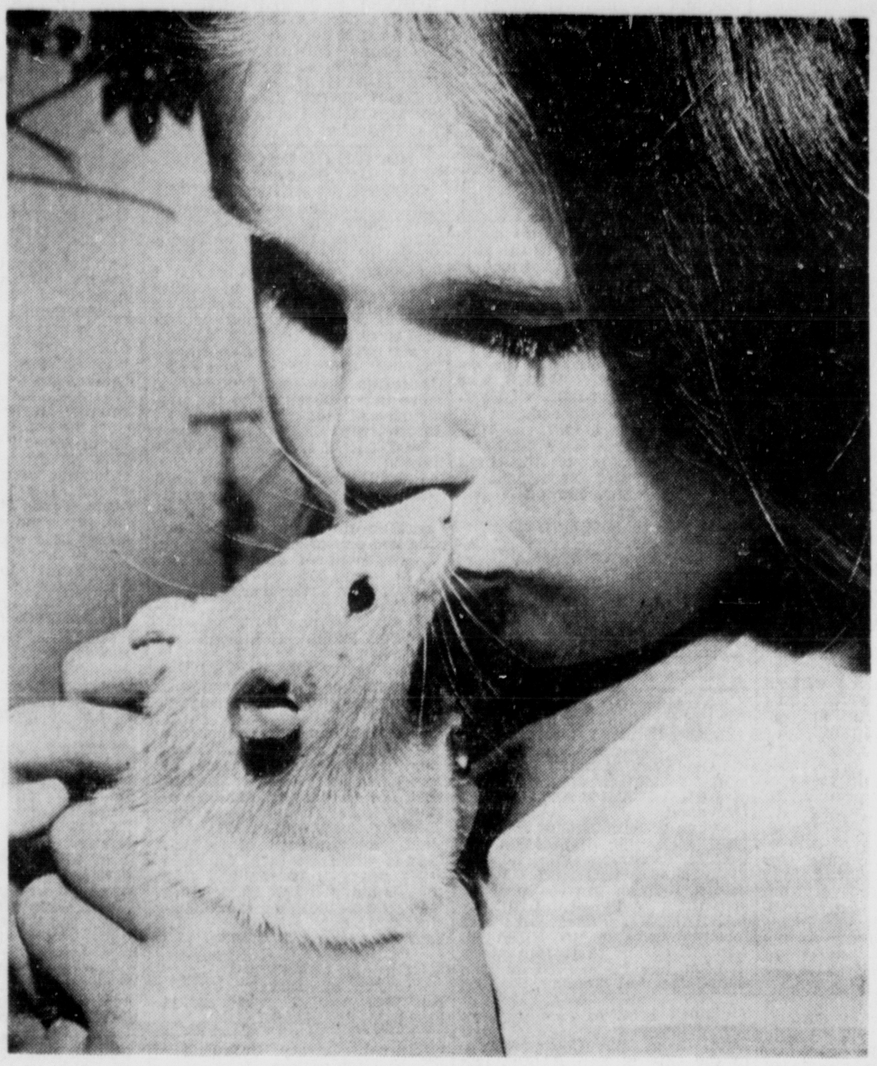
Bids to construct 33.2 miles of drainage improvements on Highway 1 in Marin County will be called for this week by the State Division of Highways, it was announced.

The drainage work will be at 13 locations starting 2.6 miles north of Stinson Beach and extending 2.3 miles south of the Sonoma County line.

Bids will be opened September 20 in Scaramento, with available funds announced at

Zoo's A Mecca

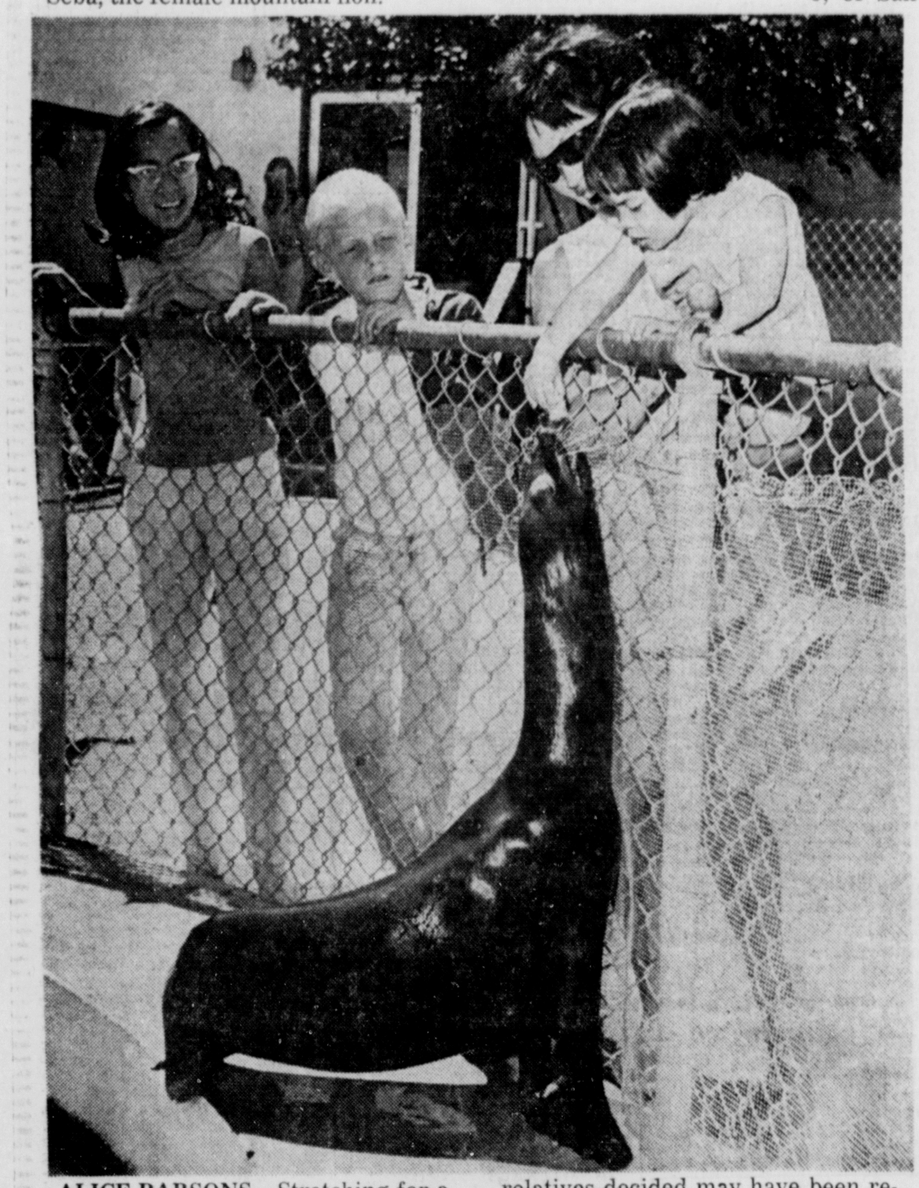
HER MAJESTY — Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael is more than just a dusty place where stones, pressed butterflies and Indian relics gather dust. This museum also features a collection of live animals that draws thousands of viewers each year. Probably the most regal attraction is Seba, the female mountain lion.



RATS CAN BE NICE—Beki Smith, 6, of San Rafael, gets more of an insight to animals by cuddling a soft, shiny-eyed, pink-nosed white rat.

For Youngsters

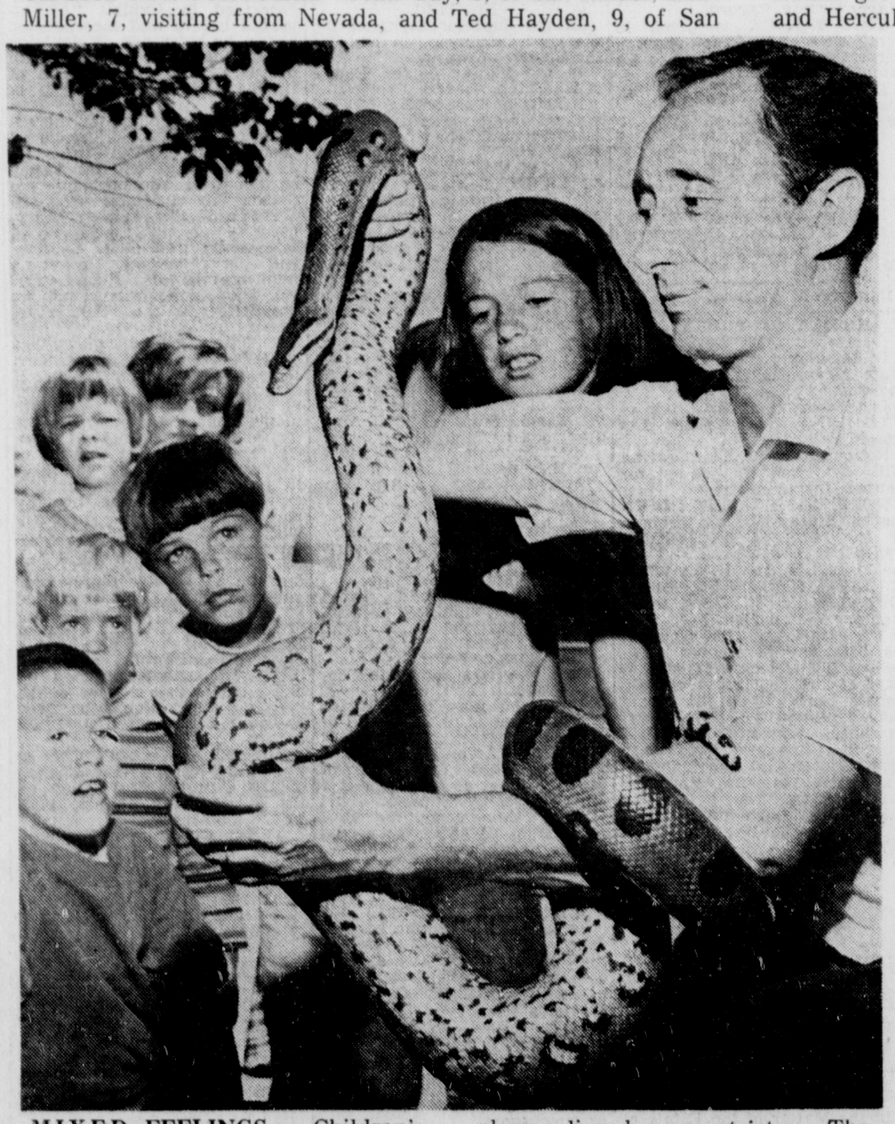
HIS LORDSHIP — Museum visitors aren't likely to try to cuddle Goldy, the fierce-looking Golden Eagle, but they do stare with fascination into his great, gleaming eyes, and at his sharply-hooked beak. Goldy doesn't, but some of the animals pay visits to classrooms throughout the county, as museum lecturers make their rounds during the school months.



ALICE PARSONS—Stretching for a proffered goody is Alice Parsons, the Boyd Museum's seal that gained national headlines after a shipping tag mixup gave her the name of a deceased woman—whose surviving relatives decided may have been reincarnated as the sleek swimmer. Mrs. Ralph Young of San Rafael holds up Andrea, 2 years old, so she can feed Alice.

TIDBITS FOR TORTOISES—John Guy, 8, of San Rafael; Kent Miller, 7, visiting from Nevada, and Ted Hayden, 9, of San Rafael get well acquainted with the armored duo of Samson and Hercules.

FINGERS MUST TASTE GOOD — One of a trio of fawns in the museum's pens sucks gently on the finger of young Janet Kennen of San Rafael, while a spotted playmate stands in a food dish that a third deer is trying to lick clean. Marin youngsters have a better chance than most to learn first-hand about wildlife and conservation through the museum.



MIXED FEELINGS — Children's faces mirror bright interest, dubious caution and downright revulsion as museum curator Lloyd Smalley displays a live boa constrictor. The museum's funds come from a number of public agencies, plus annual subscription campaign support.

WHO'S OUT THERE?—Teddy, a California black bear at the Boyd Museum, has to remain behind a fence when it comes to meeting his visitors. He's just too big, strong and a bit unpredictable to be a real pet.

Hawken, Leach, Cerrudo Qualify

Judging only from qualifying scores around the nation yesterday, Marin County has an excellent chance to come up with a National Amateur golf champion this year.

For among the leaders in qualifying at 35 sites were Don Hawken of San Rafael, heading the pack at the San Francisco Golf Club with 70-73-143, and Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, pacing 'em at the Locust Valley Country Club in Rochester, N.Y., with 66-71-137.

In addition to the 17-year-old Hawken and 22-year-old Cerrudo, the 150 qualifiers also include Ray Leach, 17, of Novato. Leach looked golden after a 69 in the morning yesterday in San Francisco, but then got badly tarnished with a 77 in the afternoon and barely made the cut off with 148.

One more stroke would have forced Leach into a sudden death playoff with two others for the fifth and last spot from the San Francisco qualifying.

Two former Amateur champions well-known to Bay Area golf enthusiasts failed to make the field that will play in the 67th annual United States Golf Association tournament Aug. 30-Sept. 2 at the Broadmoor Golf Club in Colorado Springs.

E. Harvie Ward of San Francisco, two-time winner who has not been playing much, scored 80-83-163 at San Francisco, while Charley Coe of Oklahoma City, 1958 winner at San Francisco's Olympic Club, had to withdraw after 18 holes at Oklahoma City because of a recurring knee injury.

Hawken and Leach resumed play today in the Northern California Golf Association junior amateur tournament at the Lake Merced Country Club. Leach played Kelly Watkins of Rancho Cordova and Hawken played Mike Meagher of Atherton.

Because of a special NCGA dispensation to allow Hawken and Leach to attempt to qualify for the National Amateur, the winners of these two morning matches were faced with a second match in the afternoon today. A double round is also slated for tomorrow.

Cline Has Revenge

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Itinerant outfielder Ty Cline says he's been sold and swapped too often to carry a grudge, but it would be hard to convince his former Atlanta teammates that the San Francisco streak hitter isn't mad at them.

The 28-year-old veteran of four big league clubs slammed four straight hits and scored two runs to lead the Giants to a 4-1 conquest of Atlanta last night, dropping the Braves to third in the National League race.

"I don't have any grudge against the Braves," said Cline, discarded by Atlanta for $25,000 earlier in the season. "I've been around too long to feel like that.

"This wasn't the first time I've been sold or traded," added Cline, who played with Cleveland, the Milwaukee Braves, the Chicago Cubs and the Atlanta Braves before he was peddled to the Giants.

"No more than I get to play," he said, "I have to go out every game trying to give more than 100 per cent and hoping I can help my club win."

The 4-4 night at the plate—which included a triple and three singles—was the second best game Cline could recall.

"The best was last year when I was playing for the Cubs, and went five for five against the Giants," Cline said.

Cline had two reasons to be particularly determined. Yesterday gave him enough major-league time to qualify for the five-year pension, and his wife gave birth last Saturday to the Clines' second daughter.

"Her name is Christine, but I haven't seen her yet," Cline said.

His hitting and a two-run homer by Jim Hart in the fourth inning helped Gaylord Perry boost his pitching record to 9-14.

Three of Cline's hits were off Atlanta knuckleballer Phil Niekro, a close friend when the two played for Atlanta.

"He's a good friend," Cline said, "and I was a little lucky against him."

The victory moved the Giants into fourth place in the pennant chase, half a game back of the Braves. Atlanta is 10½ games back of league-leading St. Louis and a half-game behind second-place Cincinnati.

San Francisco Manager Herman Franks, whose club dropped three straight over the weekend to the Cardinals, said "there's always a chance somebody will beat St. Louis."

But he didn't sound optimistic.

Juan Marichal 14-9 who hasn't pitched since Aug. 1, will miss another turn as the San Francisco Giants try for three straight over the Atlanta Braves today.

Fairbanks Flood Hits Ruth Series

The Novato Babe Ruth League All-Stars were scheduled to fly from Seattle to the Babe Ruth World Series in Fairbanks, Alaska, tomorrow, but the traffic this week is all from flood-stricken Fairbanks to Seattle and they may not be flying anywhere.

With the playing field in Fairbanks under two feet of water in the worst flood there in 66 years, the 13-15-year-old tournament has been washed out there.

Milt Granett, President of the Babe Ruth League Inc., said in Seattle that league officials met in Anchorage, Alaska, today to discuss the situation. They were to confer later with Granett by telephone.

"A lot of fine offers to host the series have been received," Granett said. "But there are many considerations and the decision will be difficult."

It may be relocated in Anchorage, Alaska, according to Jerry Mathieson, president of the Novato league. He said he expects to learn tonight from Babe Ruth League headquarters in Trenton, N.J., whether the tournament will be played or not.

"According to the news people (wire service reports) it's been called off," he said, "but national headquarters say they don't know yet.

"It's pretty sure it won't be in Fairbanks, though."

Fairbanks put up $25,000 last year to bring the Babe Ruth League tournament there as part of the Alaskan centennial celebration. As host city, Fairbanks was allowed to have its team compete with the eight regional winners in the World Series without qualifying in the Northwest regional tournament.

Klamath Falls, Ore., slated to play Novato in the first round Sunday, won that tournament as the Anchorage team was defeated earlier. Now, Mathieson says, the question arises as to whether the Anchorage team would get Fairbank's slot if the tourney were moved to Anchorage.

Versatile Cards Have Confidence, Harmony

ATLANTA — Versatility, confidence, pitching, speed, defense, power, harmony. That's what made the Cardinals click this season.

"We've got confidence in our ability," said Curt Flood, "because we're a versatile team that can win so many ways — with a home run, speed, pitching or defense."

Stan Musial, general manager of the Cardinals, allowed that the team's centerfielder summed up the positive points of the National League pacesetters succinctly.

Musial, discounting his own contribution to the team's success, singled out for particular praise Red Schoendienst, his long-time roommate when they were the stars of other Cardinal teams.

Red Doesn't Overmanage

"As field boss, Red has shown great patience with the young pitchers," said Musial. "He's given them a chance. He doesn't over-manage. Nobody could know that Dick Hughes and Steve Carlton would win big for us and that everybody would have a big year."

John McHale, who attended the weekend Giant-Cardinal series with his new boss, Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert, described the Cardinals as an excellently balanced ball club.

"The speed, power, defense and pitching are there to be seen," said McHale who left his top job with the Braves to become the commissioner's right-hand man.

Just Feel That Harmony

"But you can feel the harmony in the whole setup. And that must be attributed to Musial and Schoendienst. Musial always seemed to do things effortlessly and in a relaxed manner as a player. Now, as an executive he does administrative work the same way. He makes everything look easy."

The happy one-for-all, all-for-one atmosphere about the Cardinals is best manifested in the attitudes of Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda. Maris, baseball's greatest single-season home run hitter, wasn't a happy man during his last season with the Yankees. And all Giant fans know Cepeda wasn't happy in his last season with the Giants.

Now, Maris says he hasn't enjoyed himself as much as this year with the Cardinals. And Cepeda is the darling of St. Louis as he once was in San Francisco. Cha Cha's sunshine smile is flashing again except when he jogs by the Giant dugout after hitting a game-winning homer against his ex-teammates. Then he glowers at Herman Franks.

Gussie Is Stirred Up

Gussie Busch, owner of the Cardinals, really is stirred up over his team's ability to win this year despite injuries that sidelined every front-line player at one time or another, including the ace of the pitching staff, Bob Gibson, who suffered a broken leg July 15.

"He's more excited now," said Musial, "than in '64 when we won with a spurt at the end. This has been continuous for months."

In 1964 the Cardinals trailed the Phillies by 10 games in September. But the 1967 Cardinals have no intention of dissipating their extremely comfortable lead over the National League pack. They hope to turn the 1967 National League race into a real runaway for the first timt since 1955 when the Dodgers finished 9½ on front of the second place Braves, 18½ ahead of the third place Giants.

Clippers Can Clinch Western Soccer Title

The Oakland Clippers will try to nail down the Western Division championship of the National Professional Soccer League tonight at the Oakland Coliseum when they play the red-hot Chicago Spurs at 8 o'clock.

Second-place St. Louis hung on grimly last night to its fading chances to catch the Clippers by beating Toronto 1-0 at Toronto. The Clippers need a victory or a 3-3 tie to eliminate St. Louis.

Softball-Hardball Clash Is Nearer

With the second annual "hardball-softball" game less than two weeks away, both the Mill Valley Merchants semi-pro baseball team and the Sohner Tree Service softball club will not take batting practice during the week prior to the game.

The contest will be played at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 27, at San Rafael's Albert Park.

Astro Newcomer Thinks Up Blanks

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bruce Von Hoff thought all day about making his first major league start and now that it's over National League batters have something to think about.

"I was told this noon by Houston general manager Speck Richardson that I was going to pitch," said the 23-year-old right-hander who was called up from Amarillo of the Texas League Monday. "I thought about it all day."

After eight innings of last night's game, the Los Angeles Dodgers undoubtedly had some thoughts about Von Hoff—probably unpleasant ones—but that's about all they had. Von Hoff gave them just four hits and no runs before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the eighth.

However, he didn't get the victory. But Houston did, 2-1 in 12 innings, and that's a story in itself. The Astros had lost their 10 previous games by scoring a total of 25 runs while their pitchers gave up 70 and completed just one game.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 6-4, Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-5, San Francisco topped Atlanta 4-1 and Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

"I thought I could go another inning or two," said Von Hoff who was 4-2 with Amarillo, "but Grady (Manager Grady Hatton) made the right move."

The move was to pinch hit Julio Gotay for Von Hoff with one on and two out in the eighth. Gotay walked and Sonny Jackson singled to load the bases, but Claude Osteen got Joe Morgan to foul out.

Larry Sherry then held the Dodgers until the 11th when Tom Dukes, brought up Monday from Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League, took over.

The Dodgers broke through against Dukes when Jim Lefebvre singled home Nate Oliver. However, the Astros came right back in the bottom of the 11th. Bob Aspromonte singled off reliever Phil Regan, scoring Rusty Staub.

Houston then won it in the 12th when Morgan singled, and, with two out, rookie Doug Rader doubled him home.

A five-run sixth inning, highlighted by Julian Javier's two-run triple, keyed St. Louis to its victory over Chicago as the Cardinals opened up a 10½-game lead over Atlanta and Cincinnati which are tied for second place. The Cubs dropped to fifth, 11 games back.

Bill White's leadoff homer in the 12th gave Philadelphia its first game victory. John Callison sparked the nightcap triumph by driving in three runs with a homer and double.

Cincinnati tied Pittsburgh at 1-1 in the seventh and then won it in the eighth when Vada Pinson raced home on Tony Perez' double. The loss was the Pirates' sixth in the last seven games.

EL TORINO—It's not fair any more to call Orlando Cepeda the "Baby Bull." Not only has the St. Louis Cardinal slugger turned 30, but his son, Orlando Jr., is now hefting the lumber. When that batting helmet fits the new "Torino," look out! (UPI Telephoto)

Big Suit Hits Boone And Oaks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The officers of the Oakland Oaks basketball team — including singer Pat Boone — face a $4.5 million damage suit which contends they illegally wooed Rick Barry to their team.

The San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association filed the suit in Los Angeles Superior Court, claiming $1.5 million actual damages and $3 million punitive damages.

The Warriors contend the Oakland club induced Barry whom they described as "one of the most popular players on the team," to break his Warriors contract and sign with Oakland of the American Basketball Association.

A San Francisco Superior Court judge ruled Aug. 8 that Barry's NBA contract option to play with San Francisco for the 1967 - 68 season was binding.

Named in the suit in addition to Boone, the Oakland club's president, are S. Kenneth Davidson, one of the founders, and Bruce Hale, general manager and coach.

The suit alleges the Oaks and the new American Basketball Association held secret meetings last March and April during which a decision was reached to urge Barry to break his contract.

Franklin Mieuli, Warrior president, said the suit involved more than Barry alone.

"The uncertainty of his future for the past several months, the damage to our ticket sales and everything else that happened makes it imperitive that Oakland . . . reimburse the Warriors for damages," Mieuli said.

Laguna, Ortiz Weigh In

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champoin Carlos Ortiz of New York weighed 135 pounds and challenger Ismael Laguna of Panama also registered 135 today for their 15-round title fight at Shea Stadium tonight

The Ortiz-Leguna Championship fight will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, at 10:30 tonight.

Ortiz, 30, has had to struggle to make the 135-pound weight limit for the last few years in his two-time reign as champion. He weighed 135 in his last title fight on July 1 when he knocked out Sugar Ramos in the fourth round at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Laguna, 24, tall and thin, has had no difficulty with weight.

He is a natural lightweight.

Power Boat Skippers Should Know Sail Rules

By STAN DAVIES

A power boat skipper knows that, generally speaking, he must stay out of the way of a sailboat if there is danger of collision. But consider two sailing vessels approaching each other so as to involve risk of collision. What then?

The Rules of the Road outline the circumstances under which one craft has the right of way over the other. But which is which?

A power boat skipper should know the rules governing sailboats so that, if he should approach two sailboats, he will know what to expect of each and stay out of the way of both. Here's what it says in the Rules of the Road (all three sets of rules—International, Inland and Great Lakes—agree on the sailboat rules):

(a) A (sailing) vessel which is running free shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled;

(b) A vessel which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack;

(c) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the others:

(d) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is leeward;

(e) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Clip this outline of the law and keep it on your boat. By referring to it when you observe sailboats maneuvering, you will become familiar with their actions and the reasons for them. This brief discussion of the law was prompted by the many questions I've been asked this summer by power boaters, concerning some of the jargan used almost exclusively by sailboat men:

Q. What does close-haul mean?

A. Sailing against the wind, or with the wind coming from ahead. Most boaters know that a sailboat can't travel directly into the wind but will make good speed in a direction that is about 45 degrees off the direction from which the wind is blowing.

Q. Define "running free."

A. This is the opposite of close-haul. It means sailing with the wind, with the wind coming from behind the boat. Sailing downwind.

Q. How long can we block a waterway to hold a regatta?

A. Generally you can't, if someone else wants to use it. Check with your closest Coast Guard office or the agency which administers your state boating law. Some counties or municipalities have safety laws covering marine events. They are usually very simple, but check first.

Q. What is a "privileged" vessel?

A. If, under the Rules of the Road, one craft has the right of way over another, it is the privileged vessel. The one that must keep out of the way is called the "burdened" vessel.

Q. If I'm stopped fishing in my outboard boat, and a sailboat looks like he might hit me, must I get out of the way?

A. It might be the smart thing to do, but legally you don't have to. This might be a case where a power boat is being overtaken by a sailboat. You are the privileged boat.

Q. Do the Rules of the Road apply in yacht racing? Is there a book of rules on sailboat racing?

A. Basically the Rules of the Road are the law and are always in force. However, within the confines of a yacht race, they may be given narrowed or broadened interpretation. An excellent book is "The Rules of Yacht Racing" by Bob (Robert E.) Smith, a world authority. Price is $1.95.

Q. Must sailboats sound whistles or horns when passing each other?

A. No. The only time a sailboat is required to make a sound is during a fog. Then it must have a horn or whistle.

Q. Is a sailboat with an auxiliary engine a motorboat in the eyes of the law?

A. In most states, only if the engine is going. Then it must conform to all the rules of powered craft. Under these circumstances, if it is being propelled by sail alone, then it has the privileges of a sailboat. However, under Maryland law, a sailboat with an engine is a motorboat . . . always.

Q. Are there any new rules affecting sailboats this year?

A. It's now universal (since February of this year) that sailboats do not have the right of way over big ships which are navigating in restricted waters. New Jersey now has a law that sailboats must carry a lifejacket for each person aboard (formerly this rule applied only to motorboats). New York State will have a similar law by Jan. 1, 1968. Many other states already have such legislation. Check yours.

Tamalpais J.V. Cage Title Game Tonight

The All-Stars of the Tamalpais Summer Junior Varsity Basketball League will take on the champion Redwood team tonight at 8 o'clock in the Tamalpais High School gym.

Redwood's team swept to the championship after winning all seven of its games. It was Redwood's second straight J.V. summer cage title.

Boccabella Is Socking At Tacoma

Just call him John Soccaballa.

John Boccabella, the San Anselman sent to Tacoma, Wash., by the Chicago Cubs, overcame a slow start and really tore things up last week.

John jumped his average to .264 with a nine-for-25 week that included five runs batted in, three doubles and a homer that brought his circuit production to five since being sent down.

His pace last week was a neat .360.

Frank Burch, former Marin Catholic star, had a pretty fair week for the Batavia, N. Y., Class A team as he recorded his fifth win against two losses, striking out nine batters in nine innings.

That brought his season whiff mark to 54 in 56 innings.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley hurled six innings in four games for the Asheville, N.C., giving up seven and striking out four.

Palmer Boosts His Winnings To $146,711

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's victory in the American Golf Classic Sunday when he picked up $20,000 boosted his total winnings to $146,711, more than $18,000 ahead of Jack Nicklaus.

Palmer, notching his 50th professional win, has won $138,189 so far this year in official PGA tournaments and $146,711 over-all.

Others in the top ten, their official and total earnings to date in 1967:

Julius Boros, $110,635 and $112,910; Jack Nicklaus, $106,748 and $128,564; Frank Beard, $90,780 and $94,877; Doug Sanders, $89,881 and $105,203. Gay Brewer, $75,994 and $79,288; Billy Casper, $70,267 and $83,449; Bob Goalby, $58,103 and $72,437; George Archer, $67,000 and $73,300; Don January, $59,838 and $61,004.

William Ewing of the old National Association was the first catcher to throw the baseball to second base from a crouch.

Dipsea Titlist Absent

The 57th annual Dipsea Race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach will be held Aug. 27, but its defending champion will not be around to try for two straight.

Carl Jensen of Novato, last year's winner, is now covering even rougher terrain than the 6.8-mile trail from Lytton Square, Mill Valley, to Stinson Beach. He is a private in the Army serving with the 196th light infantry brigade in Chu Lai, Vietnam, near the bitterly contested Demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam.

Even without Jensen, though, the Marin Athletic Club will be favored to take its 10th straight team title. This year the Marin club should get stiffer competition than usual from the Olympic Club of San Francisco, which plans to send 25 to 30 runners.

The race will once again be sponsored by the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jaycee Pesident Jerome C. Hauke predicted yesterday that almost 400 runners would start this year's race.

TALE OF TAPE

NEW YORK (AP) — Tale of the tape for the Carlos Ortiz-Ismael Laguna lightweight title fight tonight:

	Ortiz	Laguna
Age	30	24
Weight	135	134
Height	5-7½	5-0
Chest normal	38½	35½
Chest expanded	39½	37
Reach	70	70
Biceps	13½	12½
Waist	30	28
Thigh	19½	20
Calf	14	13
Fist	11½	11½

Some might even finish it.

The day before the race the Jaycees will walk the course with AAU officials from San Francisco. Hauke says the tour will take about three and a half hours. A humorous fellow, he also issued an invitation for sportswriters to join the walkers.

The 450-odd steps up Old Mill Park, which inaugurate the grueling race, will be in better shape this year than ever before, after the City of Mill Valley's improvement project that has renewed all but a small section of them.

Among the runners who will take off up the steps amid the annual fanfare are former champions Darryl Beardall and John Satti and last year's over-40 winner, Otis Miles.

Bay Area Mayors Agree: Job Exams Need Revamping

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bay Area mayors have agreed that cities should take a hard look at their own Civil Service examinations in connection with the problems of finding jobs for the jobless.

Mayors John F. Shelley of San Francisco and Wallace Johnson of Berkeley yesterday conducted a mayors workshop at a one-day conference sponsored jointly by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the NAACP.

Shelley told the 100 delegates that some Civil Service examinations may not be keyed to the prospective jobs involved. Johnson suggested that the tests too often have a cultural bias.

Other workshops at the conference included one on education, one on unemployment problems, and one on law enforcement.

The education workshop reported that California was integrating its schools at a poor pace and urged other cities follow the example of Berkeley with complete integration by September of 1968.

The unemployment workshop urged that industry be granted tax incentives for hiring the hard core unemployed.

In an address to the conference, Mayor Shelley suggested that the old alternatives of handling city problems have failed.

He said problems of employment, education, housing, and law enforcement must be set up on a regional basis.

Attending from Marin were school officials and representatives of the Sausalito police, the human rights commission, the Neighborhood Youth Corps, county housing authority, county chamber of commerce, Oak Knolls of Marin and Fairchild Semiconductor Company.

Endorses Bond

The Kentfield School District board last night endorsed the Tamalpais High School District's $12,315,000 bond issue to be voted on Oct. 10.

Fire District Sewer Service Wins Approval

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors agreed last night to provide sewer service for Tiburon Fire Dsitrict at its Trestle Glen station, but not to annex the property until more property owners apply for annexation.

Directors told Fire Chief Franklin J. Buscher they would charge a connection fee of $375, provided sewage disposal service on a no-charge contract basis, and require fire district to install its own sewers.

Directors authorized their attorneys, Wilson, Jones, Morton and Lynch of San Mateo, to advertise a bi for sale of 15-year bonds in the amount of for the Sky Road special assessment district, which will provide sewer service for about 19 homes.

The Richardson Bay Sanitary District Board also:

PERSONNEL CHANGES — Hired a new maintenance man, Helson Lindfrom of Sa Anselmo, to tart Sept. 1, at a salary of $530; raised the salary of Max H. Graefe from $744 to $770 and changed his position from plant operator to plant superintendent; raised plant operator James Torbett's salary from $576 to $600.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignation, effective Aug. 31, of Director Samuel Fletcher, who is moving away. No appointment was made last night to fill the vacancy he leaves on the board.

Boosters To Organize For Sausalito Library

A meeting to organize the campaign for the proposed new Sausalito library will be hwld at 8 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall, Mrs. Wint F. Saint, publicity chairman said today.

Presiding at the meeting will be Dr. James Mickle, president of the Friends of the Sausalito Library and Mrs. Ivan Cousins, acting chairman of the campaign committee.

A referendum election will be held Sept. 19 on a lease-purchase plan to finance the new library. The library, designed by architect Aaron Green, would be located on the waterfront near Anchor and Humboldt streets and would contain 9,035 square feet of space.

Voters turned down a bond issue last March for a 11,500 square foot library, the bote being 56 per cent in favor with a two-thirds majority being required.

Under a plan voted unanimously by the Sausalito City Council the library would be financed by three sources: a $126,134 federal grant, $85,269 from the library's building fund and $190,200 from the proceeds of the present five-cent building tax.

16 Marinites Are Inducted Into Service

Sixteen Marin County registrants were inducted into military service this month, Mrs. Joy M. Kinzer, executive secretary of Selective Service Local Board 25, has announced.

None of the 16 is married, she said. They are:

Joseph N. Kennedy, Arnold B. Hunter, Robert L. Lemmelet, Steven R. Carrino, Robert T. Strom and George A. Barney, all of San Rafael; John B. Desimone and John P. Russo both of San Anselmo.

Lewis C Glovini of Novato; Mark V. McDermand, Robert E. Osborne and Jeffrey A. Turner, all of Mill Valley; Frank A. Gabel and Juan Tropiec, both of Corte Madera; Don D. Durham, now of Daly City; Arden R. Fallen, now of Mountain View.

The county draft quota for September is 10 men, Mrs. Kinzer said. How many of the 10 will be drafted is not known. August's quota was 49 men, of whom the 16 above were drafted. The September group will report to the Oakland induction center Sept. 6.

Flatware Stolen

A set of stainless flatware valued at $100 was among property reported stolen last week from the home of Mary J. Linthicum, 15 Octavia Street, San Rafael, police said yesterday. Also missing are trading stamp books, cigarettes, $20 in cash and a mixing bowl.

Worthless Check Hearing Is Set

Preliminary hearing for Donald L. James, about 35, on a felony charge of passing a worthless check was scheduled in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday.

James, of Penngrove, Sonoma County, allegedly passed the check at Small World Leasing in Mill Valley on March 1. He pleaded innocent yesterday.

Anti-Poverty Foes Assured Right To Appeal

San Geronimo Valley residents opposing an anti-poverty program in their area were assured yesterday of a right to lodge appeals with the board of supervisors.

But the board stressed it was not inviting complaints.

Supervisors John F. McInnis said many area residents were objecting to Marin County Economic Opportunity Council plans for anti-poverty projects there.

The board was reminded by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and Asst. County Administrator Thomas E. Campanella that it had a right to make recommendations on programs before the state approved them, has contributed funds to the EOC and had appointing authority for its board of directors.

A poverty survey board comprising residents and EOC personnel is currently at work in the valley.

SNCC Hurls Accusations At Israel

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee's charge that Jews are committing atrocities against Arabs has brought censure of the "Black Power" group from Jewish and civil rights leaders.

"Israel is and always has been the tool and foothold for American and British exploitation in the Middle East and African" said Ralph Featherstone, SNCC program director.

Featherstone, Executive Secretary Stanley Wise and Miss Ethel Minor held a news conference yesterday to expand on a SNCC newsletter which charged that Zionists conquered Arab lands through terror, force and massacres.

Whitney Young, executive director of the National Urban League, a Negro group, said in New York that SNCC's "divorce from reality is best illustrated by the resemblance of their comments to those of the American Nazi party on this question."

Dymally Puts Rioting Blame On Party System

WASHINGTON (AP)—California's first Negro state senator blames the two major political powers for this summer's riots and what he said was growing Negro advocacy of Black Power.

"Negroes are the victims of the two-party system," said Sen. Mervyn Dymally, a Democrat and national co-chairman of the recently organized National Conference of Negro Elected Officials.

"The Democrats take Negro votes for granted and they're afraid of the white backlash. The Republican party simply lacks the will to help wipe out the Negro ghettoes," Dymally said in an interview.

33 Gonorrhea Cases Reported

There were 33 cases of gonorrhea reported in Marin County in the week ending last Saturday, the county health officer, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, reported.

Other communicable diseases reported in the county were 11 cases of strep infection, seven cases of mumps, four cases of syphilis, and two cases of infectious hepatitis.

Military Chafing At Restraint

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. military leaders, already given new authority to bomb more targets in the Communist North, are chafing at the political restraints that restrict ground operations along Vietnam's borders.

Marine Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., reporting on his sixth trip to Vietnam, made it clear yesterday that from a purely military standpoint he would like to conduct a more mobile war along the demilitarized zone, including incursions into North Vietnam itself.

SHARP'S VIEW

His sentiments were similar to those voiced by Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp, U.S. commander in chief in the Pacific, in previously secret testimony made public late yesterday by the Senate military preparedness subcommittee.

"In South Vietnam, we are essentially fighting a defensive action," Sharp told the senators. "The enemy is attacking from sanctuaries across the demilitarized zone, from Laos, and from Cambodia, and moves his forces at will across these borders.

"While we have blunted his initiatives by tactical offensive operations, political restraints rule out ground operations which would deprive the enemy of these sanctuaries," he said in the first official confirmation that Cambodia is being used as a sanctuary.

MORE TROOPS

Greene told newsmen that his Marines could "accomplish their objectives more quickly" if they had more troops, but he avoided a flat statement as to whether Marine Reserves should be called up.

"The decision is not ours," he said. "We recommended a study of the pros and cons of the situation. The decision was that it is better at this time not to mobilize."

House Looted

A stereo tape player, one tape and a carton of cigarettes were stolen Sunday from the Peter A. Wadlewski residence, 22 G Street, San Rafael police said yesterday. The stolen property was valued at $72.

Blithedale Park Name Is Agreed

Mill Valley Parks and Recreation commission Monday night agreed to name the 11-acre parcel of land at the intersection of West Blithedale and Marguerite avenues "Blithedale Park."

The land was given to the city by Steve Allen who is to construct a subdivision on the remaining 11 acres of adjoining land. The subdivision is the city's first "cluster type" development.

Commissioners also discussed park improvements for fiscal 1968 but took no action, Don Dimitratos, parks and recreation director, reported.

Navy Pilots Reportedly Dumping Bombs Needlessly For Records

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a hint of an old, enormously expensive game going on among Navy pilots operating off North Vietnam. The goals: get rid of every bomb and fly often to keep up combat records.

The Navy officially says nobody's playing it, but a former aviator says "it was common knowledge all the time I was aboard," and a ranking admiral says he got word from the top that such reported antics weren't to be tolerated.

Privately, some military officers say the practice went on in World War II and Korea and is still going on to some extent.

"About a third of our ordnance was dumped in the water, and that's a conservative estimate," said Alex Waier, 32, a chemical company analyst in Midland, Mich. His remarks were carried yesterday by the Bay City (Mich.) Times in a copyrighted story.

Waier, an A1 Skyraider pilot aboard the carrier Ticonderoga until his discharge after nine years' service in February, said pilots were told to beat the other carriers' records on numbers of bombing missions.

"We would zip up and down the coast and unload, or dump them in the water," Waier said. "That way, the carrier would get credit for a sortie."

Waier said Navy pilots were risking their lives against cheap or worthless targets and often got sent out in dangerously foul weather on what he called meaningless missions.

Except for targets in Hanoi or Haiphong, Waier said, there are few profitable sites to hit in North Vietnam.

Within hours the Navy produced some top combat-proven officers to explain Waier's remarks.

Rear Adm. D.C. Richardson, commander of Task Force 77 on Yankee Station off Vietnam until last May, denied there was any formal sortie race among Navy pilots but he indicated that plenty of enthusiastic competition was underway.

Adm. David L. McDonald, former chief of naval operations, "took me aside before I went out and said 'I've had word of sortie races and want no part of it'," Richardson said.

Richardson said top Navy people had "been aware of this thing" for the past two years.

The admiral disputed Waiers statements about bomb-dumping, but only in degree and reasons.

Richardson said because of bad weather Navy pilots sometimes fail to reach assigned targets and head back to ship with full bomb loads.

As a precaution against accidental explosions on deck the pilot routinely releases his ordnance over water before landing.

Richardson said there was "a touch of truth" in Waier's remarks in the sense that competition is strong among the Navy carriers which rotate two at a time off North Vietnam in sending planes to blast Communist targets. He attributed it to "a bunch of gung-ho lads."

Vella Leaves Half Of Large Estate To Wife

San Vella, former owner of Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon, left half of his estate to his wife, Louise, and the remainder to eight nieces and nephews in Malta, his will revealed yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Vella, about 78, died June 29 in Malta following a lengthy illness. He sold the cafe in 1960 after operating it 40 years, and was unofficially called "Mayor of Main Street" in Tiburon.

The estate is listed only as "over $10,000" but Vella has long been considered a millionaire. Mrs. Vella resides in Tiburon.

3,330 Acres For Park Given Nod

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's Public Utilities Commission unanimously approved on yesterday an interim plan for converting to recreational use 3,300 of the 23,000 watershed acres the city owns in San Mateo County.

Included would be a streamfed artificially - created lake which would be stocked with fish, a golf course, picnic areas, hiking and riding trails, and park-like areas. Swimming pools and field sports would be provided in an area near the golf course.

Pharmacy Hit

Someone forced the rear door of the San Anselmo Pharmacy, 312 Sir Franucis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo between midnight and noon Monday and took $110 in cash, five cartons of cigarettes and one Playboy magazine, according to San Anselmo police.

Mao Claims Nikita Aided Plot Against Him In '59

TOKYO (AP) — Chairman Mao Tse-tung's leadership, continuing its attack on President Liu Shao-chi, claims that Liu and former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev backed a plot to topple Mao in 1959.

The Maoist-controlled new China News Agency (NCNA) distributed yesterday an 8-year-old document adopted by the Communist party's Central Committee accusing former Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai of plotting against Mao.

NCNA said Peng's followers at the time included Liu and other antiparty elements that tried to undermine the leadership.

The Peking People's Daily said today that "Peng was in league with the revisionist Khrushchev trying to topple the Chinese proletarian dictatorship." It did not tell how the then Soviet premier helped Peng.

The paper said the attack on Peng is "an important element to overthrow and completely discredit a handful of top party persons in authority headed by China's Khrushchev who are taking the capitalist road."

"China's Khrushchev" is the name Mao's leadership uses to refer to Liu. The paper refers to the former Soviet premier as Soviet Khrushchev.

After the Central Committee adopted the document in 1959, Chinese leaders announced Peng's dismissal and his replacement by Marshal Lin Piao, Mao's "closest comrade-in-arms" and his apparent successor as party chairman.

Lin was appointed defense minister in September, 1959. Liu has been president since April, 1959.

Recall Reagan Drive Launched By Marinite

A 70-year-old Corte Madera woman has launched a local movement to recall Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Katherine Bender of 15 Chapman Drive announced that she has undertaken to recall Reagan "because he has done more damage in seven months than any governor in California history."

"Taxes for one thing," Miss Bender said in explaining why she is working on recall. "He's raised taxes, and now he's going to go to work on Medi-Cal to cut down on people going to the hospital."

"Thank God, he can't touch Medicare," she said.

Miss Bender's recall movement in Marin right now is largely a one-woman show, she said. She is confined to a wheelchair since an operation for a circulatory ailment removed her left leg. So she does most of her campaigning by telephone.

She makes eight or ten phone calls a day, mainly to acquaintances and neighbors encouraging them to sign the recall petitions now being circulated statewide.

"I would do more calling if I could afford it," she said pointing out that her telephone bill ting out that her telephone bill last month was about 75 cents higher than usual — totalling $4.12.

She lives on her Social Security benefits, which she said is "under $200." Miss Bender said she is financing her campaign "out of my food money."

She has lived in Marin County since the 1920's and was an early organizer of the Culinary and Bartenders Union, Local 126, and served as its business representative until heart trouble in 1939 forced her retirement.

"Even if I can't get Reagan recalled, then maybe I can at least stop his ambitions for the presidency," the shut-in said. "I've been here since 1927 and seen governors come and go, and I'll outlast this one, too," she said.

Cyclist Cuts Leg In Auto Collision

Fairfax motorcyle rider Richard E. Sterling, 26, of 20 Redwood Road suffered a cut on his lower right leg yesterday when his machine collided with a car outside 89 Scenic Road, Fairfax police reported.

Sterling was treated in Marin General Hospital. Car driver Elfrieds E. Kuehn, 28, of 89 Scenic Road, was uninjured.

Scared Thief Leaves Money

A burglar Monday night took about $55 from the San Marin Club in Novato, but apparently was scared off and left $252 behind, according to Novato police.

The burglary was discovered by janitor Frederick L. Caluya when he went to work at 4 a.m. yesterday.

There were no signs of forced entry into the club, according to police.

The burglar has taken $27 in coins from the cash register and placed them in a cardboard box which he abandoned on the counter when he fled.

He then pried open the door to the manager's office, pried open the filing cabinet in it, taking $55 in cash. He then pried open the filing cabinet in the cashier's office, but must have been frightened because he left $225 in cash there.

Just Little Too Young For Draft

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — David Allen Johnson didn't show up for an Army induction physical Aug. 7, as ordered by the Sparta draft board, but his excuse will probably save him: he'd rather finish fourth grade.

David is the 9-year-old son of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson, who moved recently to Milwaukee, and apparently received the draft notice intended for a 19-year-old Sparta youth.

Review Scheduled On County Mishaps

The Marin County Safety Commission is scheduled at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow to review mishaps involving eight county employees the past four months.

Included is a school bus accident in which a 9-year-old Marinwood youth was injured July 13.

50 Years Marriage For Couple

Hunting, fishing, camping and just plain getting along together have been the key to a successful marriage for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arthur Borster of Point Reyes.

Married 50 years ago Monhave spent a lot of time workstill going strong, planning a vacation to Alaska next spring.

Since their marriage in Portland, Ore., in 1917, they have spent a lot of time working, but more importantly they said, playing together.

The couple met in Portland in 1916 when Forster was working in the Bethlehem Steel Corp. ship yards. They were married 11 months later and moved to Greenbrae in 1920.

Now a retired superintendent of shipbuilding with Bethlehem Steel, Forster and his wife, Mamie, live on a hill over-looking the coast.

Since his retirement five years ago, they have spent much time vacationing, spending part of last year in the Bahamas and Hawaii.

The couple has a son, Robert Jr., an assistant superintendent of shipbuilding for the Bethlehem company in Beaumont, Tex., and a grandson, Robert III, who is studying for his doctorate in nuclear engineering at the University of Virginia.

They celebrated their anniversary last night at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael at a party, attended by 25 relatives and more than 50 friends.

As a tip for a successful marriage, Forster said he recommends "close cooperation."

Strawberry Rec Board To Meet

Directors of Strawberry Recreation District have called a special meeting for today at 8 p.m. at Strawberry Point School to discuss action on three items.

The meeting was announced today by Mrs. Jean Heick, board clerk, who said the board will discuss annexation to Tiburon, setting a date for the dredging of Strawberry Channel and bids for the construction of a tot lot in Strawberry Park.

Thief Drops Hatchet In Looted Home

Hatchet - yielding burglars forced a sliding glass door of the home of Joseph W. Mulqueeney, 100 Glenside Way, Los Ranchitos, and stole a large quantity of clothing and other items, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

A son, Michael J. Mulqueeney, told deputies Friday he returned home and discovered the breakin. He said the clothing, two television sets, two expensive watches, a clock radio, $23 in cash, a camera and a gold ring were taken from bedrooms, a den, and a hallway. The hatchet was found discarded in the house, he added.

Deputies said the intruders apparently backed a vehicle into the driveway to load the loot.

Alice E. Baker, 143 Evergreen Avenue, Homestead Valley, reported Saturday that burglars entered her home while she was watching television in the living room. They took two purses containing $102 in cash from a bedroom, she said. One purse was later found discarded outside.

Robert Banks of Roberts Bank Ldt., clothing store at Strawberry Town and Country Village, told deputies Sunday that burglars stole several men's suits after rearranging the clothing racks before departing.

Innocent Pleas Made By Pair On Morals Charge

Two Santa Venetia men yesterday entered innocent pleas in Marin Municipal Court to a joint charge of rape. Setting of a preliminary hearing was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The pair, James A. Keane Jr., 36, and Charles T. Keating, 33, both of 830 La Playa Way, allegedly raped a 21-year-old Fairfax girl Thursday after offering to drive her to see a restaurant owner about a job.

She told sheriff's deputies they left Quan Lin Restaurant in San Rafael, but drove instead to the defendants' home. Keating acquired a shotgun and the victim was forced into a bedroom and raped under threat of violence, she told officers.

She later escaped through a bathroom window. Keating also has pleaded innocent to a charge of committing an unnatural sex act while there.

Marinite Replaced On River Board

George B. Rabb of Stockton, has been named by Gov. Ronald Reagan to succeed William R. Seeger of San Rafael, to the Colorado River Board.

Seeger, of 147 Dominican Drive, San Rafael, is the general manager and chief engineer of the Marin Municipal Water District.
